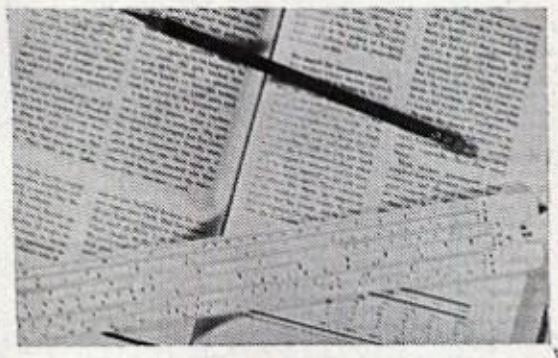
SHELBYVILLE HIGH SCHOOL

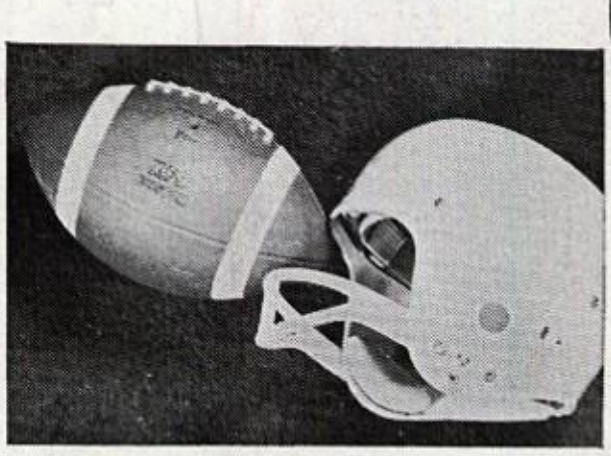
SHELBYVILLE, INDIANA •

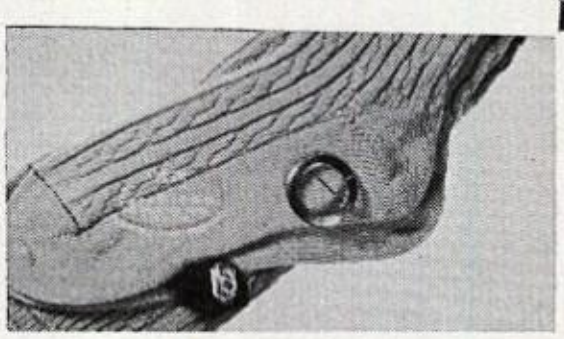


the Year • 1962

School Life – 3 Academic – 16

Organizations – 28 Sports – 44 People – 60





This is a story about us . . .

We have created in three years an atmosphere unforgettable and dear to every SHS student. New landscaping has been added to beautify our school grounds. We revived the school spirit and homey atmosphere which we had left at the old building. Now we have broken in our new building, becoming good friends.

WE that is, the 619 of us, and what of our year and the people

We take time to chat before first hour class

we did . . . and how we did it . . . and the results and places involved . . . gay and solemn . . .

Before classes began in the mornings, we congregated in the halls. Many things happened there. Some of us were dreading a test we had to take first hour that we just had not had time the night before to study for. Many of us were standing in couples, and others were even playing with yo-yo's! Then as classes began, we trudged down the crowded stairs which gave us a feeling of togetherness. At noon there were always those lively moments in the cafeteria. Although we liked to "mix and match" the food and had a few spills now and then, we were grateful to be eating balanced meals in such a clean, well-kept lunch room. At the end of a long hard day of studying, we made a mad scramble to get out to the parking lot or bus.

Off we go to another class.

We have to gobble our lunches to save time for chatter before going back to class.

WE enjoy our season of

Of all the SHS events, the basketball games traditionally held the leading interest. For entertainment our band played before the games and at half-times. For enthusiasm and spirit we had two strong booster blocks, the boys' and the girls'. For appeasing a crowd of hungry spectators, we had concessionaires with their treats. Every one of us contributed his share for a memorable season. We liked to provide that extra "umph" around tournament time, so we put on special pep sessions. Our sectional victory certainly filled us with gaiety.

Basketball fans are entertained during the half-time intermission by the band.

The Booster Club relaxes during the half to regain their voices for the final tense moments of the game.

We went wild, simply wild, at the Sectional.

School spirit was at an all time high after our Sectional victory.

WE find time to

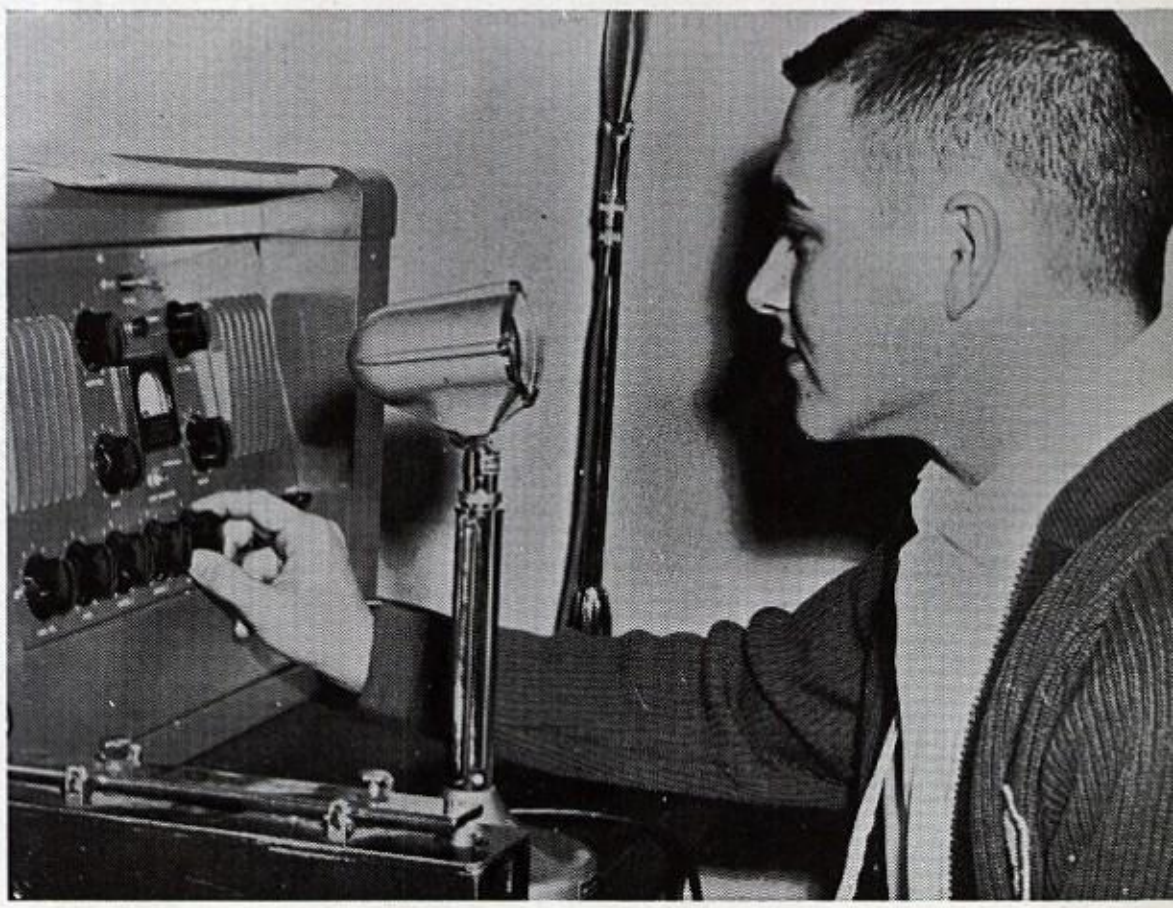
The "Morning Constitutional Walk" to school toughened our basketball squad.



The Hi-Y opens each school week with a prayer.

play and pray

There are always two sides to a story. In our case one was gay and the other serious. On the lighter side we got a big laugh from watching the boys walk to school in cold weather so bundled up that we could hardly recognize them. The Scurrier, sock hops, formal dances, and vacations also offered us opportunities for fun and frivolity. Most of all, we were happy because we were with friends. On the serious side of our story was the prayer that we offered each Monday morning led by members of our Hi-Y. Seniors thought carefully about plans for meeting the world, while underclassmen realized the need to profit from high school study. Thus, we regarded taking exams and getting report cards as important duties.

In many different places throughout our school we saw different things, but a variety and example of each were found in our student center. The girls wore short skirts and knee socks, hair bows, circle pins, and rings bound with angora. The boys sported pegged pants, and "new" hair styles, parted and combed over to one side. Yes, our story is one overflowing with memories to last us a lifetime.

Excitement increases as the graceful arch dancers herald the entrance of the 1961 May Festival queen, Sherry Smith, and her court.

We proudly present our pageant for the

The Shelbyettes in their glowing white satin outfits entertain at the 1961 May Festival.

May 3, 1962, was the date of the thirty-ninth annual May Festival. According to custom, the program was opened with a special number by the dance band. This year they chose "Cherry", a well known Glenn Miller arrangement. The vocalists were Judy Trees, Beverly Craig, and Janet Fox.

Twenty-four junior girls in flowing white formals swayed to the theme of "Country Gardens" before forming a floral arch for the entrance of the queen and her court. When the seven girls in their beautiful gowns reached the setting prepared for them, Elton Linville, the 1961 Lord Mayor, crowned the Queen of the May.

The physical education department joined the combined music departments to create a spectacular of song and dance.

The full Shelbyville High School choir did a special number. A tango number was presented by Pat Gregory, Gloria Spurling, Janet Fox, Gary Hamner, Fred Thomas, and Ross Rowland; and twenty-four lasses did a Highland Fling number. A comedy skit, "Backwoods Bally Ho" brought laughs from everyone.

Twenty girls in gay costumes kicked up their heels in real chorus line fashion to the tune of "Two For One", a number written especially for high school dance bands.

The marching band, dressed in their uniforms and wearing bright red cheek coloring, did a slow, stiff-legged step while playing "March of the Toy Soldiers". After several marching designs, they broke into a lively march and repeated the design in a quick step. With the band in concert formation playing accompaniment, the majorettes performed.

Soft and dreamy was the mood of this dance at the 1961 May Festival.

The chorus line? No, these are sailors in formation!

Queen and her Court

Pat Gregory chose and directed the girls who delighted the audience with their rhythm dance with a background of drums played by Wilfred Coers, Gary Hamner, and Steve Lancaster. The girls wore black outfits with full length dance skirts.

The arch dancers assumed formation for the queen and her court to leave the floor. The evening that we had been planning for so long was over. It was a success, and we were happy; we were also a little sad that it was over for another year.

Fred Thomas and Gloria Spurling practice the tango.

The highland fling dancers worked many hours to perfect their routine.

Traditional May Court

Emily McKeand and Allen Pence

Active in many organizations at SHS, Emily is president of the G. A. A. and Singing Stars and is a member of the Booster Club, Robed Choir, Sunshine Society, Future Teachers, and Honor Society. After graduation, Emily will attend Hanover College to become a physical education teacher. Her escort, Allen, served as a member of the varsity basketball team and is president of our band. His other activities include Hi-Y, the Dance Band, and the Squib Staff. Allen plans to attend Wabash or Rose Poly next year.

Rosalie Wendling and Doug Miller

Rosalie, better known as Rosie, is one of the three girls on the Spring Court who served as a varsity cheerleader. The Sunshine Society, Booster Club, Future Teachers, and Squib Staff are other organizations in which she has been active. Next year Rosie plans to attend Ball State Teachers College. Doug, her escort, is also active in many school organizations. He is a member of Hi-Y, S-Club, the Boy's Cheer Block, the Courier Staff, and plays on the baseball team.

Barb Benefiel and Alan Koehler

Participating in the Booster Club, Sunshine Society, Future Nurses, and Future Teachers keeps Barb busy; yet she still finds time to work in the office for Mr. Clay. Being on a court is not new to Barb for in her junior year she reigned as Prom Queen. Escorting Barb is Alan Koehler, the president of our senior class. Alan is active in Hi-Y, S-Club, and N. A. S. S. He is a member of the varsity basketball, football and baseball teams. After graduation, Alan plans to study business administration.

Pat McComas and Dave Spannbauer

Pat, a varsity cheerleader, is very active in school organizations. She is a member of the Booster Club and the Sunshine Society and for three years has been a member of our Student Council of which she is now secretary. Majoring in commerce at SHS, Pat hopes to find an office position after graduation. Escorting Pat is Dave Spannbauer, who is a member of the golf, cross-country, baseball, and varsity basketball teams. He belongs to Hi-Y, S-Club, and N. A. S. S., and plans to attend the University of West Virginia.

Is Chosen by Seniors

Sue Cord and Jim Kremer

Being president of the Future Teachers and secretary of Future Nurses keeps Sue busy, but she still finds time to participate in the Booster Club, Robed Choir, and Honor Society and work on the Squib Staff. Sue plans to enter St. Vincent's School of Nursing in Indianapolis after graduation. Jim, her escort is vice-president of our senior class. He is a member of Hi-Y, S-Club, N. A. S. S., and the varsity football team. Jim plans to attend Ball State Teachers College next year.

Judy Owens and Steve Adkins

Judy participates in many school activities including Booster Club, G. A. A., Sunshine Society, Robed Choir, Future Nurses, and the Squib Staff. Earlier in the year, she reigned as Queen of the Fall Wind-Up Dance, which ends fall sports. In the future, Judy plans to be a nurse by attending Indiana University and then the Medical Center. Judy's escort, Steve, has been active in sports throughout high school and is a member of our cheer block. After graduation, Steve plans to attend college to study business administration.

Cheryl Knoebel and Elton Linville

Cheryl, active in many organizations, is another cheerleader on the Spring Court. Her activities include the Booster Club, G. A. A., Future Teachers, Sunshine Society, Squib Staff, and the Honor Society. Cheryl plans to attend Ball State Teachers College and become an English teacher. Her escort, Elton Linville, is Lord Mayor of the 1962 May Festival. He is a member of Hi-Y, Future Teachers, Forum, Cheer Block, Squib Staff, and the Honor Society. Next year Elton plans to attend Hanover College where he will study economics and political science in order to become a history teacher.

PROM 1961

Juniors and seniors had a real "Roman Holiday" at the 1961 Junior-Senior Prom held in the Paul Cross Gym on May 19, 1961. Gary Miller and his orchestra provided the music for the evening.

The decorating committee, under the direction of Randy Long, turned the pages of time back to the days of ancient Rome. A flowing fountain surrounded by stately pillars and greenery served as the center piece. A "wall" and "ceiling" were created by streamers of blue crepe paper hung from wires. For the queen and her court a setting of pillars, urns, and floral arrangements was provided.

The highlight of the evening was the crowning of Miss Barbara Benefiel as queen of the Prom by junior class president, Mark Mount. Miss Benefiel and her court composed of Sue Ramsey and Mary Ann Bennett with their escorts Alan Koehler, Jim Kremer, and Eugene Bryer then led the Grand March. During the evening sophomores Mike Staats, Steve Lancaster, Wilfred Coers, Jennifer Jones, Gloria Spurling, and Jean Gehr served cookies and punch to the dancers.

PROM 1962

"Bali Hi", from the Broadway musical South Pacafic, was the theme of the 1962 Junior-Senior Prom held in the Paul Cross Gym on May 18, 1962. A former SHS graduate, Steve McGrew, and a thirteen piece orchestra provided the music featuring the theme song of the Prom, "Bali Hi."

The gymnasium was transformed into a tropical isle by the decorating committee. Palm trees and a sparkling waterfall created the tropical atmosphere; a volcano added a special touch; and a pale tropical moon beamed down on the swirling dancers.

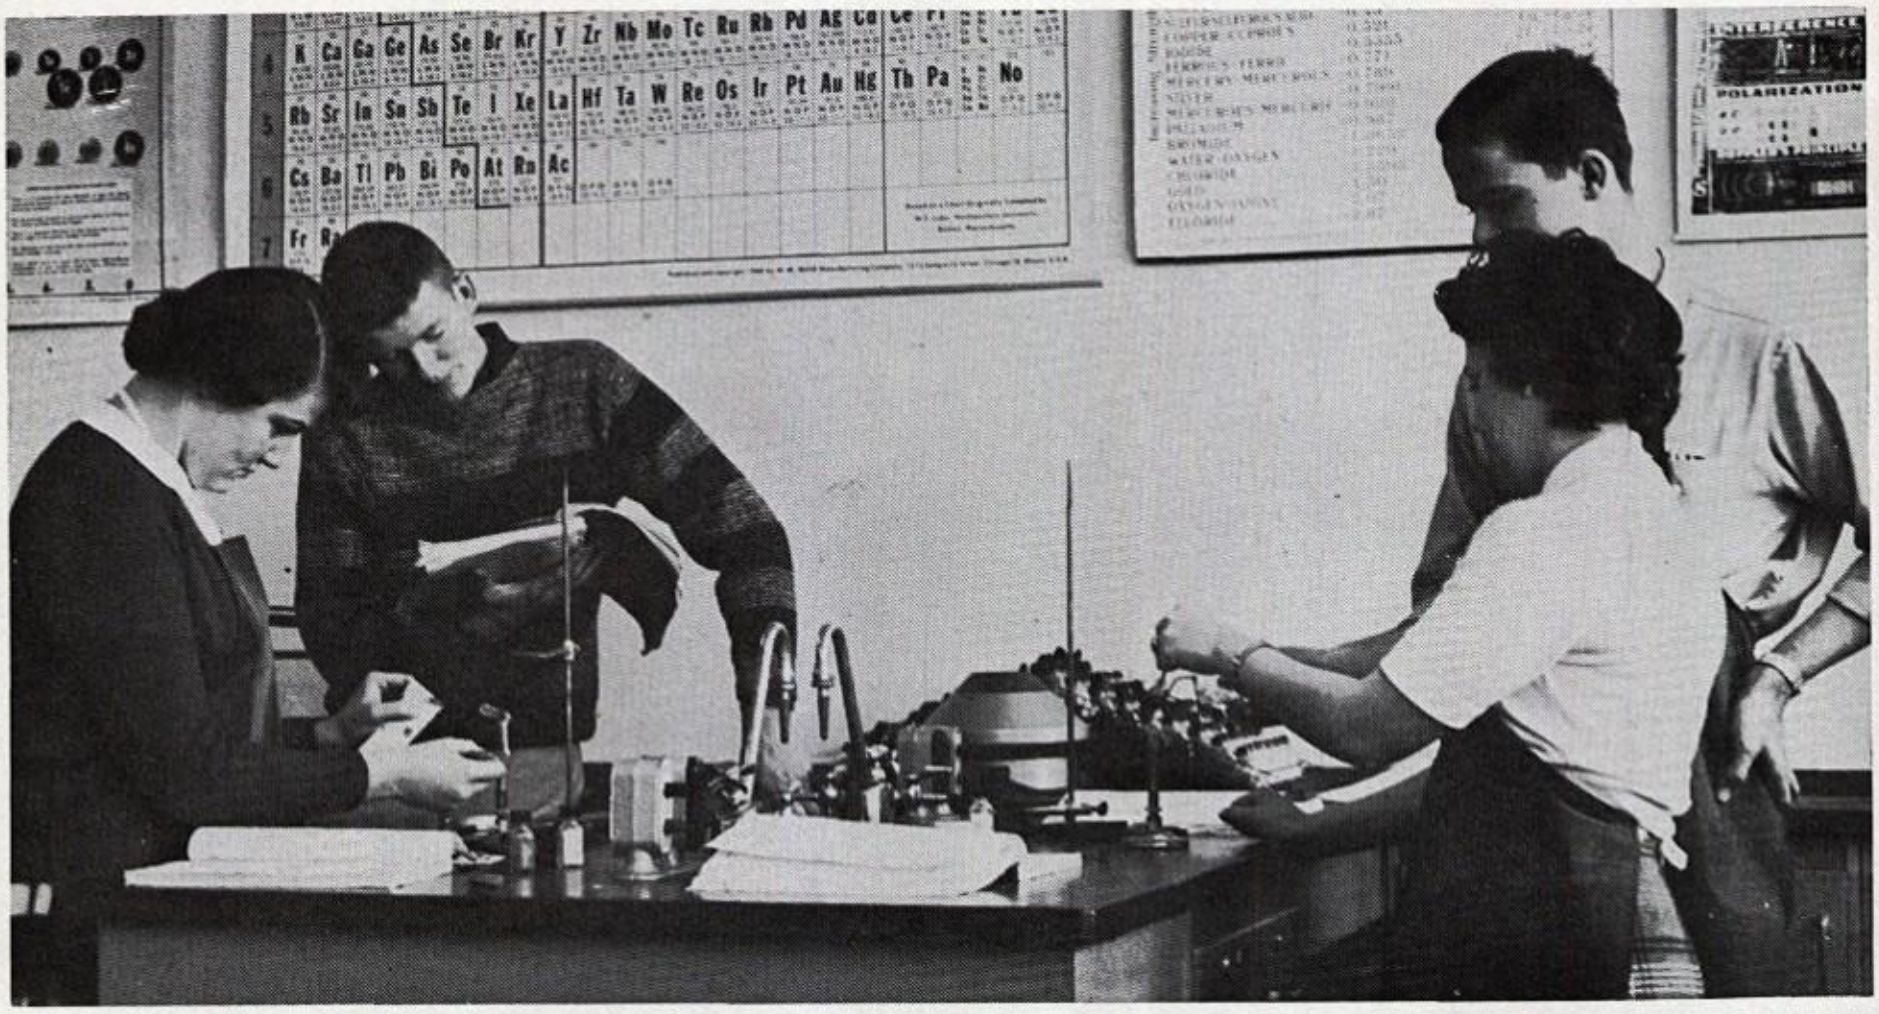
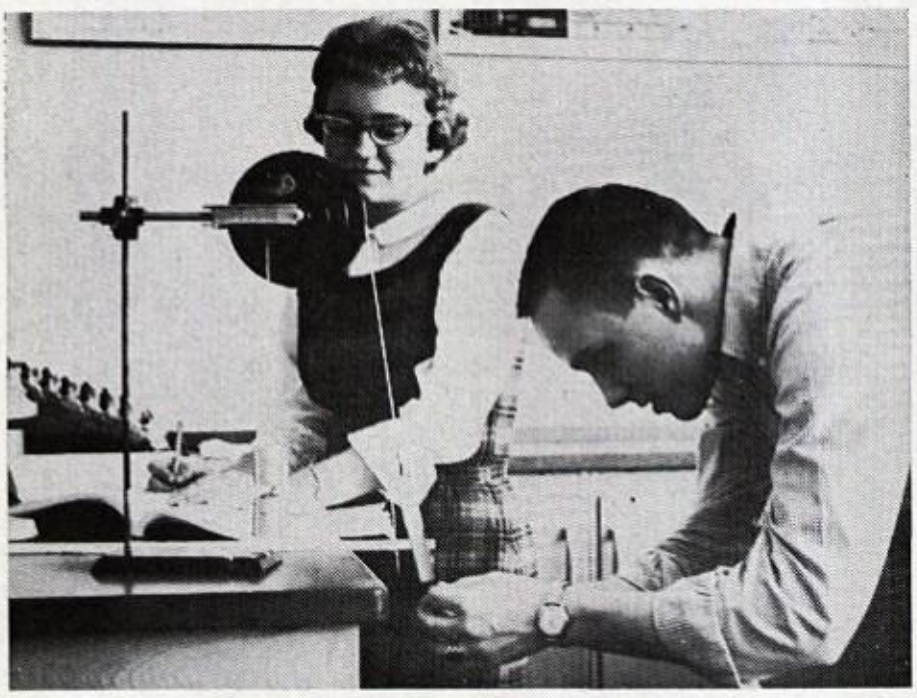
Science Courses Introduce Students to



Alice Ward, Mike Thomasson, Steve Stine, and Ann Taylor perform a scientific experiment in chemistry class.

Chemistry and Physics



Nancy Wasson and Mike Mount made many scientific "discoveries."

Performing experiments in our chemistry and physics classes is not only educational but also lots of fun. However, this is only a part of what takes place in these courses. We listened to lectures, worked problems, and studied hard for on-coming tests. Several movies, pertaining to the material we studied, were shown to us by Mr. Jerry Need, our new science teacher. Mr. Need took over for Mr. Thompson who was granted a leave of absence this year to further his college education.

The chemistry course is designed to give us a basic knowledge of elementary chemistry and to give us an idea of whether or not we would like to pursue that profession. We make a detailed study of several important elements and even produce a few of the gases in class.

The physics course deals mainly with matter and energy and the transformation of energy. We study simple machines, electricity, light, nuclear reactions, and problems, problems, problems! We watch complicated experiments being performed by Mr. Need and do the simpler one ourselves.

Today's Modern World

Biology, a required subject at SHS is under the direction of Doloris McDonald, Arthur Barnett, and Garnett Winchester. The students study plant and animal life with the aid of films, microscope study, and special projects.

The penetrating odors drifting from the solarium are the result of projects dealing with rats and other small animals. Keeping an aquarium, collecting insects, incubating eggs, and studying Mendel's Law of Heredity are other popular projects among biology students.

All of us who leave SHS must have studied health, a required one-semester course. Doloris McDonald teaches the girls while the boys are taught by Arthur Barnett. In health we study tissues, organs, and systems of the human body.

This year, for the first time, students were given an opportunity to study the peace time uses of radiation. A class of twenty met with Mr. Barnett after school two days each week. The course was based on films concerning radiation. The students saw demonstrations and performed experiments with radioactive isotopes. In these experiments they used a Geiger-Muller counter, a new piece of equipment at SHS.

Sam Stader, Bill Yoder, and Ron Zeller examine the newest additions to their rat family.

Vicky Scheffler cares for her aquarium in biology class.

Linda Jones and Mike McRoberts operate a Geiger counter in the radiation class.

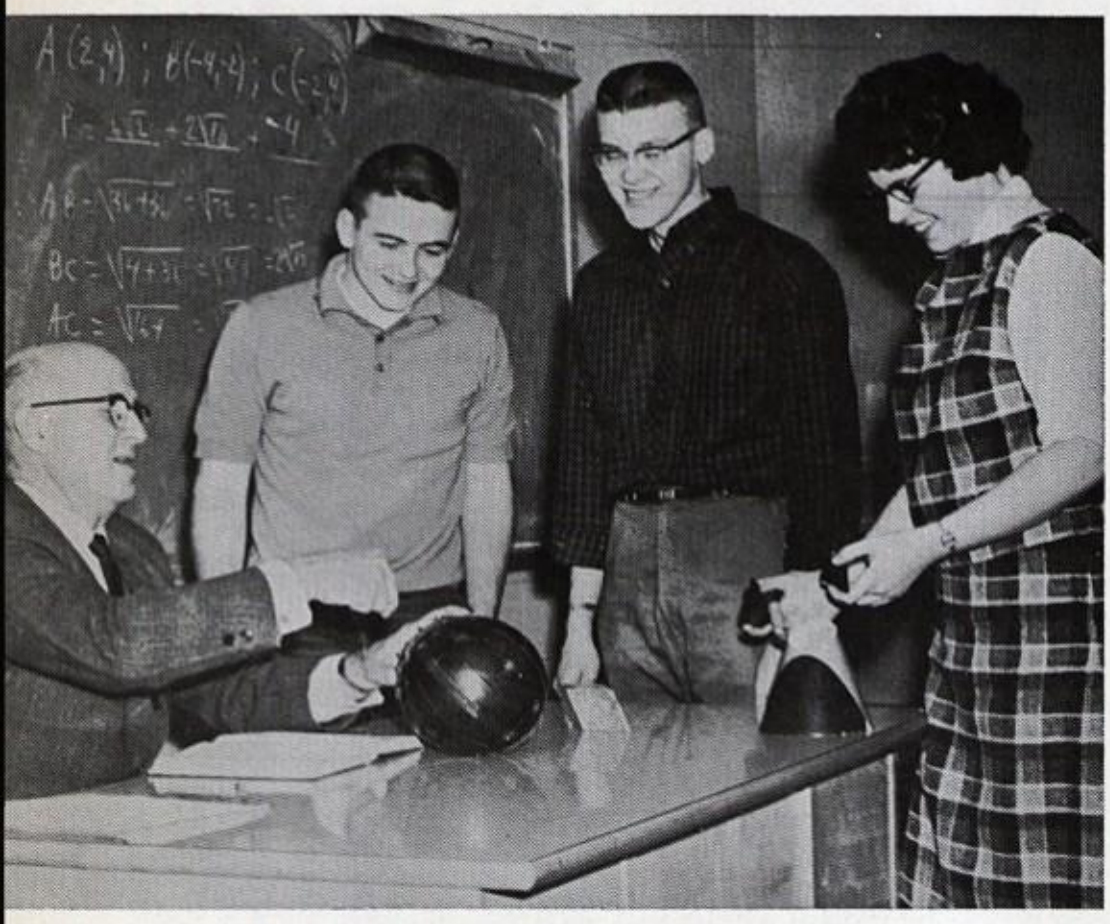
Polygons and Symbols Baffle Math Students



Mary Jo Soller, Elton Linville, and Mike Thomas watch as Mr. McKeand explains the sphere.

Shelbyville High School is proud of the mathematics department that has been developed through the years to meet the ever increasing needs of the students.

Plane geometry is the study of the properties of solids, surfaces, lines, and angles which lie in a flat surface.

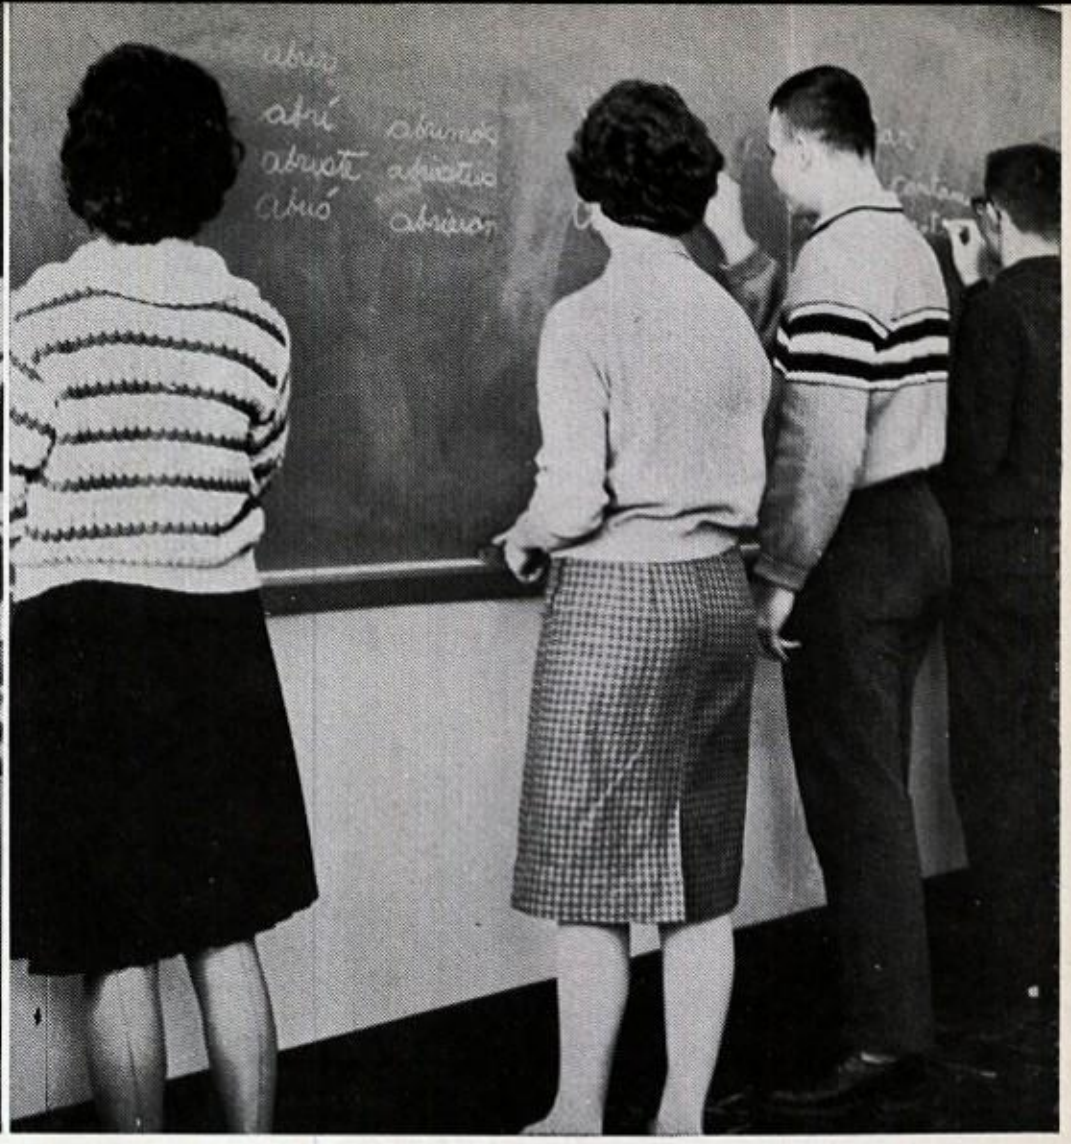
In geometry classes we learn how to prove basic theorems which enable us to understand the concepts of geometry. Constructing triangles, quadrilaterals, hexagons, and other polygons is another part of this course. Ray Beck teaches the sophomore geometry classes.

Advanced or college algebra, taught by Mr. Beck and J. M. McKeand, deals with complicated equations, factoring, and quadratic functions. One of the most interesting chapters to most students deals with probabilities. Special sections of the book show how algebra is related to various practical situations.

Mr. McKeand also teaches senior math which consists of solid geometry, the study of the properties of solid figures, plane trigonometry, analytic geometry, and introductory calculus, a method of computation by reasoning through the use of symbols.

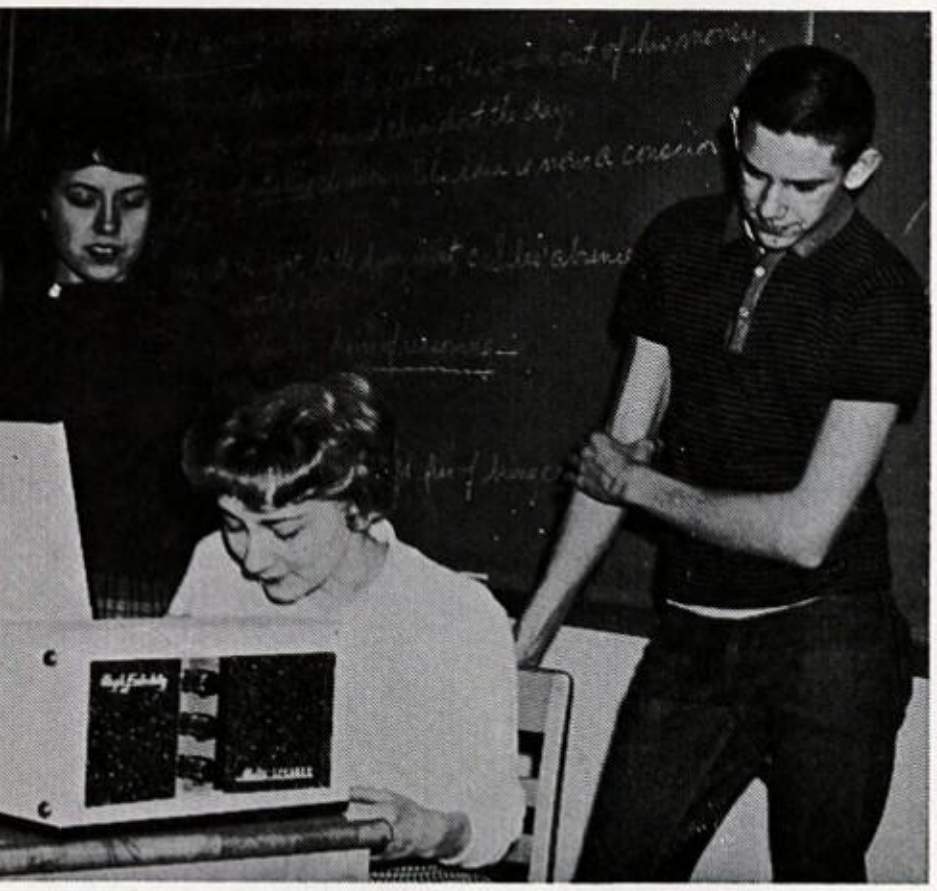
As mathematics is the basis of the sciences, engineering, and other related vocations, it is given the importance it deserves.

The stack of books indicates that Carolyn Anspaugh does not neglect her other studies, as she delves into Caesar.



A blackboard exercise determines whether Marcia Neeb, Margie Soller, John Haehl and Leslie Schaeffer have learned their Spanish conjugations.

New Foreign Ambassadors in the Making?



French students Linda Trueb, Tina Wendling, and Dan Collins, perfect their pronunciation by listening to native speakers on records.

The opportunities at SHS for students interested in languages expanded in the 1961-1962 school year, as we saw the addition of French to the curriculum. Mr. Alan Coyner used conversation as the key to learning French. First, students learned the correct combination of words by repetition of certain phrases. Then they learned the reasons behind the structure of the language. Class activity included listening to records of French, reading French newspapers, and discussing in French. Mr. Coyner instructed two senior high classes and one junior high class.

Miss Nancy Cuskaden, our new Spanish teacher, believes that "Words are but the signs of ideas, regardless of language." Thus the first and second year Spanish classes of twenty-five members each were taught correct expression, which is the most important reason for studying a language. In addition to learning pronunciation and grammar, these students gave prepared talks in Spanish and studied the Mexico City newspaper to gain experience with Spanish.

Our Latin classes were taught by three different teachers during the school year. Illness prevented Mrs. Aleeta Kinder from continuing her job. Miss Eva Swanson, a former SHS teacher, took her place until Mr. Franklin Clark came to us from Indiana University. The three second-year Latin classes found Caesar equally interesting and challenging. Through study of conjugations, declensions, and translations the Latin students increased their knowledge of this classical language.

Miss Moore answers a question for Mary Jo Soller in English literature class.

"Correct expression" was the theme of our SHS English department this year. Thus, we strived to build grammatically correct sentences, which conveyed our meanings in a vivid and clear style. We also tried to see how literature could be applied to our own experiences.

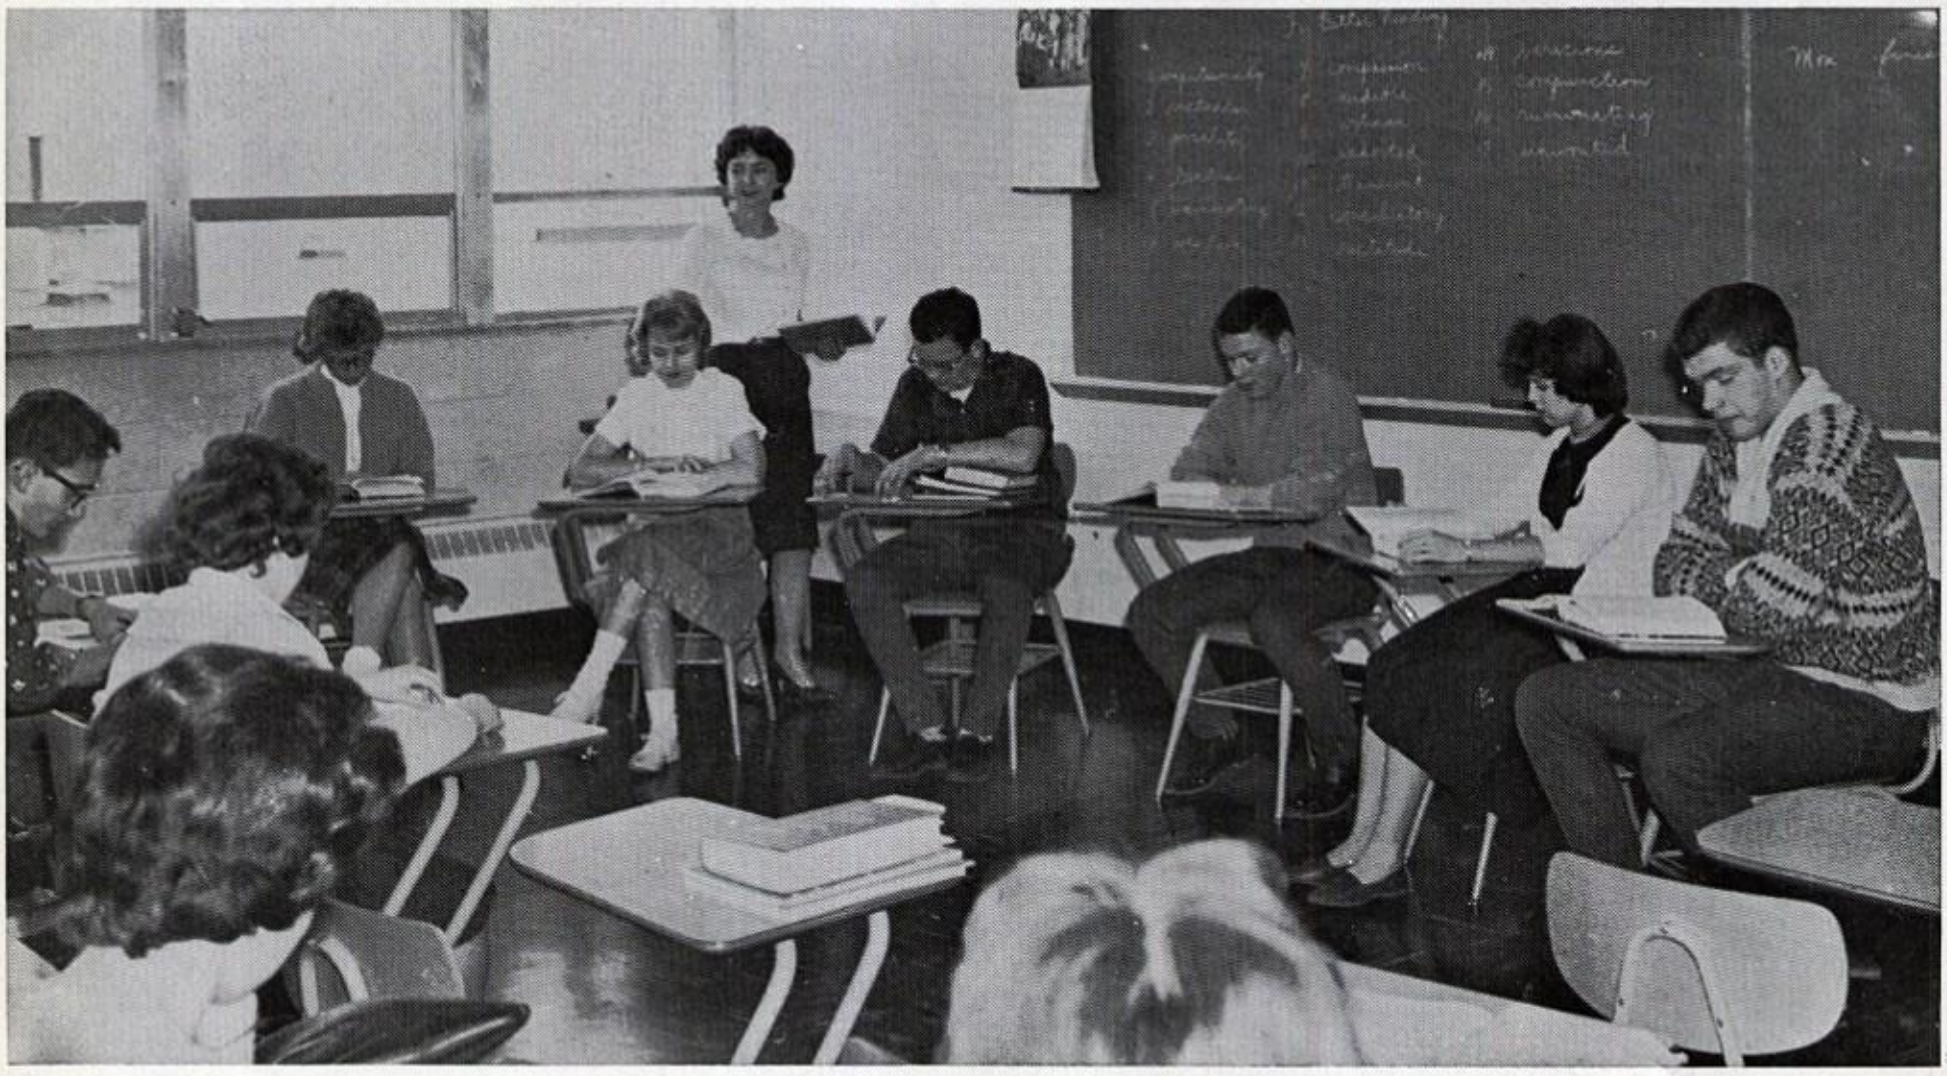
In our grammar and senior composition courses we studied sentence content and form, we increased our vocabularies, and we learned to use reference books. By writing letters, themes, paragraphs, essays and term papers, we used the knowledge which we acquired.

We enjoyed the works of many authors, both early and modern, in our literature classes. We studied novels, biographies, plays, short stories and poems.

As sophomores, we learned to appreciate literature by readings Silas Marner by Elliot and Idylls of the King by Tennyson. We juniors realized how closely the history and the writings of a country are interrelated as we studied American literature. When we took English literature, we seniors discovered the wealth of literary tradition which our language offers.

Miss Cuskaden, Mr. Coyner, Mr. Clark, and Mr. Kuhn instruct the sophomore English classes. Miss Moore, Miss Chenoweth and Mr. Kocher teach the juniors. Miss Moore also teaches the English literature class, while Miss Chenoweth specialies in senior composition classes.

S.H.S. Students Improve



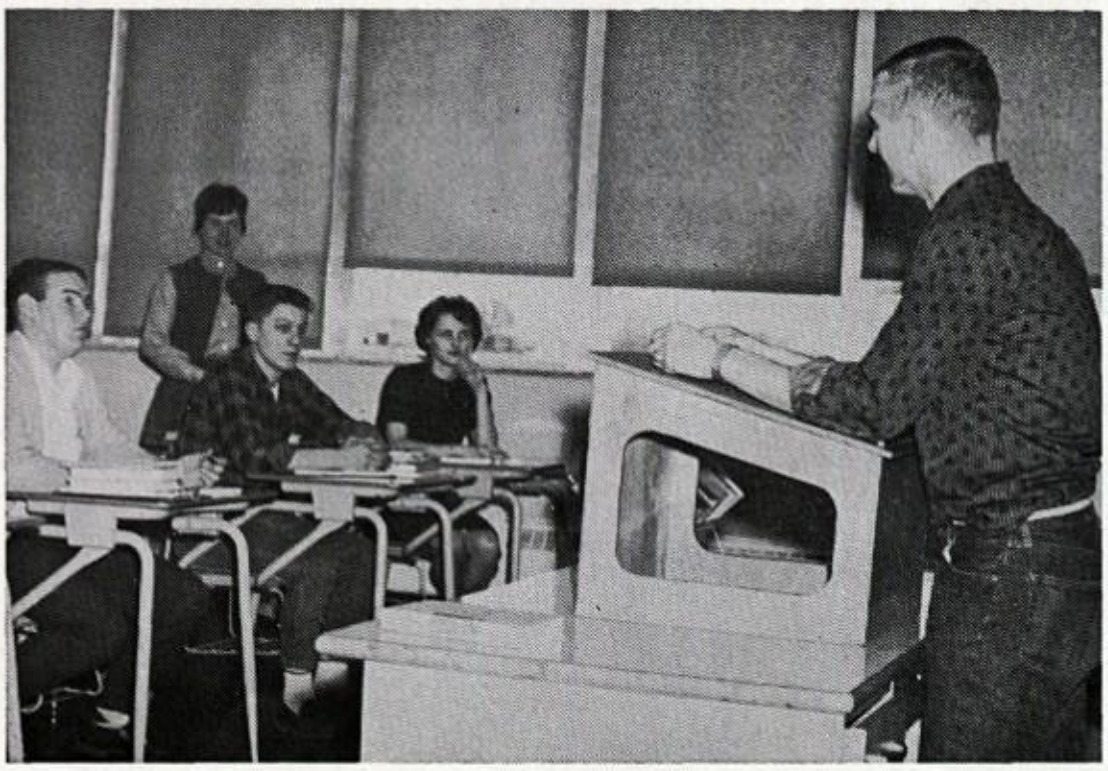
These boys and girls may look like SHS students in Miss Cuskaden's sophomore class, but they are really characters in Silas Marner chatting around a fireplace.

Lee Steele, Ann Schoelch, and Donna Ryhal use shadowscopes in developmental reading class.

Reading Skills and Communicate Ideas

"To be or not to be, that is the question" — Shakespeare. We might say "To speak or not to speak, that is the problem which every student faces when deciding if he should take a course in speech." The wise student who plans to enter a profession would be benefited if he were taught to read aloud from the printed page and to speak before an audience with poise and confidence. The speech classes — beginning and advanced — taught by J. Daniel Kocher, stress all types of speech in practical situations. Debates, impromptu speeches, and speeches to convince, inform, and demonstrate are given. Advanced speech students participate in class discussion and study the fundamentals of dramatics.

Developmental Reading, a course to help students develop better reading habits, is now required for graduation from SHS. Developmental Reading is especially helpful to the student planning to attend college. By using the shadowscopes, workbooks, and films available in the lab, the amount of comprehension as well as the rate of reading is increased. A test is given by the instructor Mrs. Jay at the beginning and end of the course to measure the improvement each pupil has made.



Sam Moore takes charge of a classroom discussion in the advanced speech class.

Students Study Past to Understand Future

The History Department of Shelbyville High School is one of great importance. As students, we feel the study of world history, American history, and the basic principles of economics, American problems, and government are essential to the furthering of our education.

As sophomores we are required to take world history. The classes are instructed by Mrs. Irene Simpson, Mr. Loren Hemingway, and Mr. Arthur Morgan. The course covers ancient, medieval, and modern world history and is supplemented by a current event paper, "World Week."

In the junior year American history is required. This year there were 185 students enrolled in the American history classes, 41 of whom composed two advanced classes. These classes are taught by Mr. Ray Hinshaw. Besides the regular textbook study the students of the advanced classes concentrate on the television lecture series, term papers, outside reading, and many essay and objective type tests.

Seniors have a choice of American problems or economics, but they must take government in order to graduate. Government and economics are taught by Mr. Ronald Abrell; American problems is taught by Mr. Frank Barnes. As sophomores and juniors we learned the history of the world and our country. As seniors we learned of present governments and how to cope with problems that may arise in our future.

Future Secretaries Learn Business Skills

The subjects of our Commerce Department — typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, business English, and general business — are instructed by Blanche Ashby, Rita Fern Comstock, and Everett Brown.

Our Commerce Department teaches every skill a person would need when entering the business world. In first year typing we learn the fundamental typing skills; in second year typing we are drilled for speed and accuracy.

Shorthand is based on this same process, learning the basic skills the first year and practicing them the second. Our teacher gives dictation on both old and new transcription material to build these skills. Our advanced shorthand classes receive the same drill, but at a greater speed.

In our bookkeeping, business English, and general business courses we learn filing, bookkeeping, business terminology, business arithmetic, letter writing, and commercial geography.

Our office girls are chosen according to their ability from the first and second year commerce classes to help Goldie Craige and Mr. Clay. For Mr. Clay the girls type letters and help him with other office work. The girls who help Goldie collect attendance slips, make a report of them, answer the telephone, run errands and deliver messages.

Sue Barnhorst, Mary Helen Bowlby, Ann Staats and Mary Kay Lambert are improving typing accuracy and speed in commerce class.

S.H.S. Girls Plan Future Happy Homes

Bonnie Hall, Nancy Cox, and Sally Skillman learn the art of cooking.

Our Home Economics Department includes various courses in cooking and sewing. The food courses are instructed by Miss Jesse Bodem and the sewing by Mrs. Doris Butler.

Our Home Economics Club began its activities last fall by holding an initiation for our thirty-three new members. Membership is open to all girls who have had one semester of a high school home economics course of cooking or sewing, and who are willing to participate in club activities.

The purpose of our club is to draw together girls with an interest in home economics and to give them an opportunity to work and learn more about homemaking.

Carrying out an annual custom, we held our faculty Christmas tea the week before Christmas. The foods classes prepared the refreshments for this event and our club officers served it.

This year we also held a Christmas Candy Carnival for our members. Each member was presented with mistletoe corsages and received recipes for various types of candies and cookies.

Another project, sponsored jointly by our Home Economics and Future Farmers Clubs, was the planting of six tulip beds in the courtyard between the library and the student center. In addition to our regular meetings with demonstrations on various home economic subjects and contributing to UNICEF, we annually attend the Indianapolis Home Show.

Ruth Anne Kennedy presides as president, Sheila Ann Roberts as vice-president, and Judy Branson as secretary-treasurer. Miss Jesse Bodem sponsors the group.

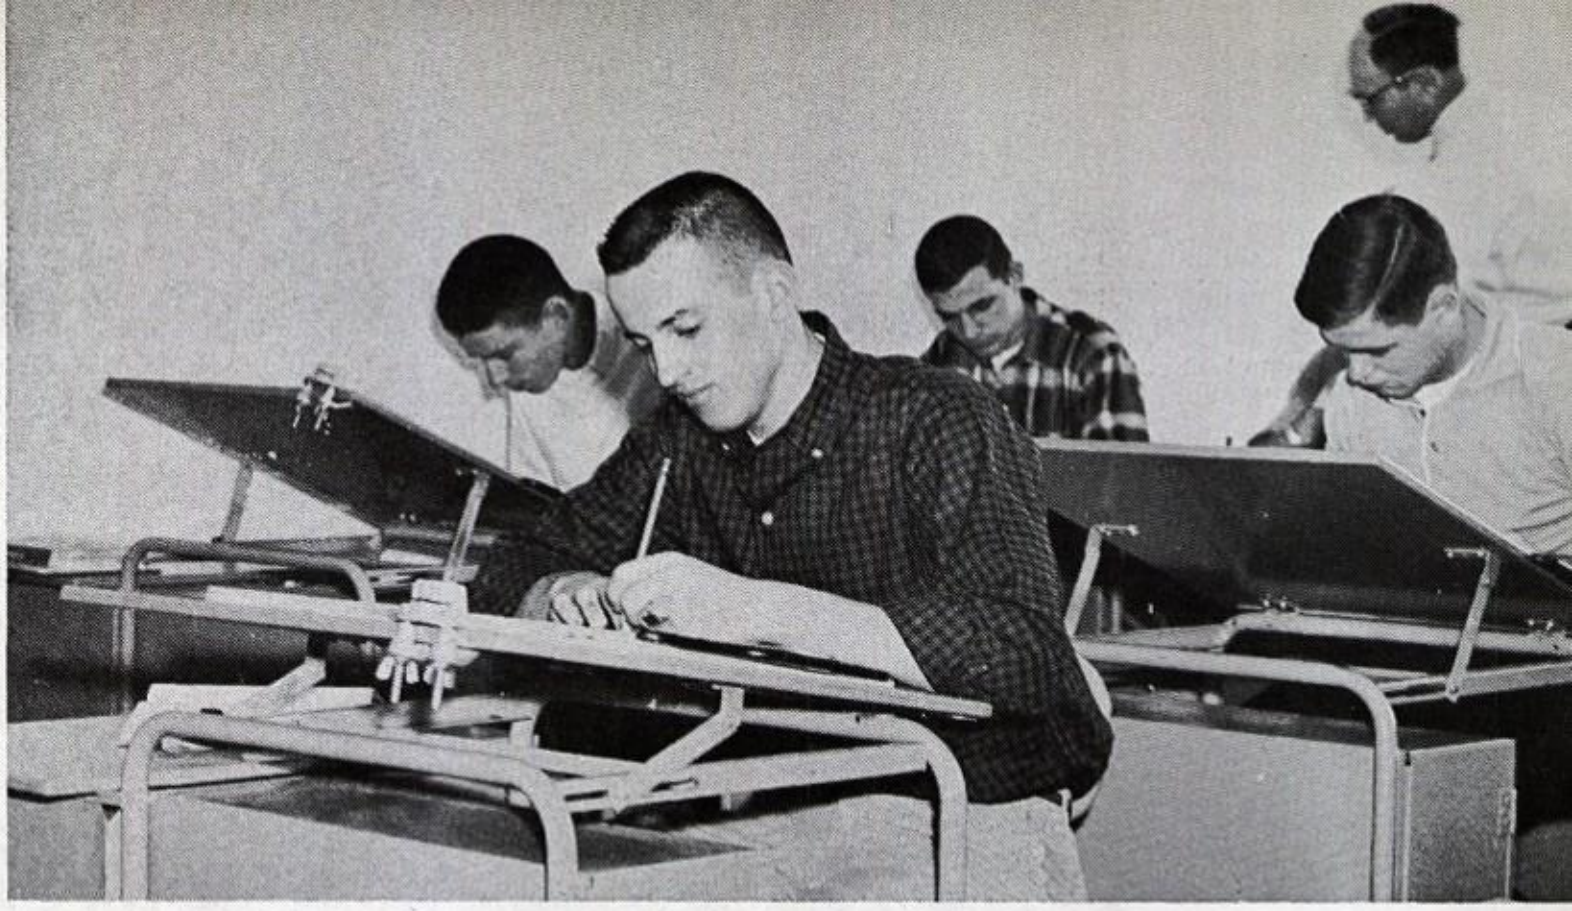
Happy Holidays! This cheery snowman appeared in the showcase to brighten those oftentimes dreary December days.

Art Students Use Creative Talents

Students exercised their creative talents in Miss Williams' art classes. This year she taught 100 students in her six classes.

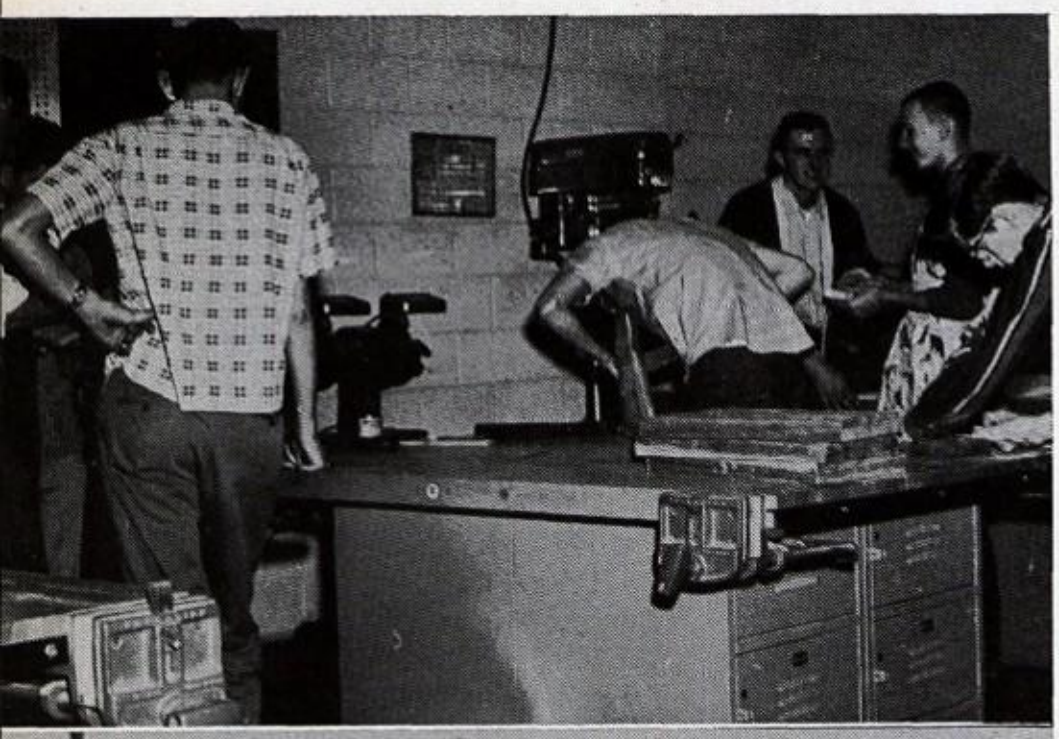
The beginning students practiced free hand drawing on live models. The lettering classes realized that the style must be appropriate to the product as they lettered posters and place cards. Vocational as well as domestic interests were satisfied as the layout and color scheme of a house were planned in the interior decorating course. Then in dress design class, the students learned the flattery of line and color combination in clothing. Design class was a planning ground for applied design class, and also a source of many SHS displays. First the pupils created unique designs, then they reproduced the designs on ceramics, rugs, and baskets.

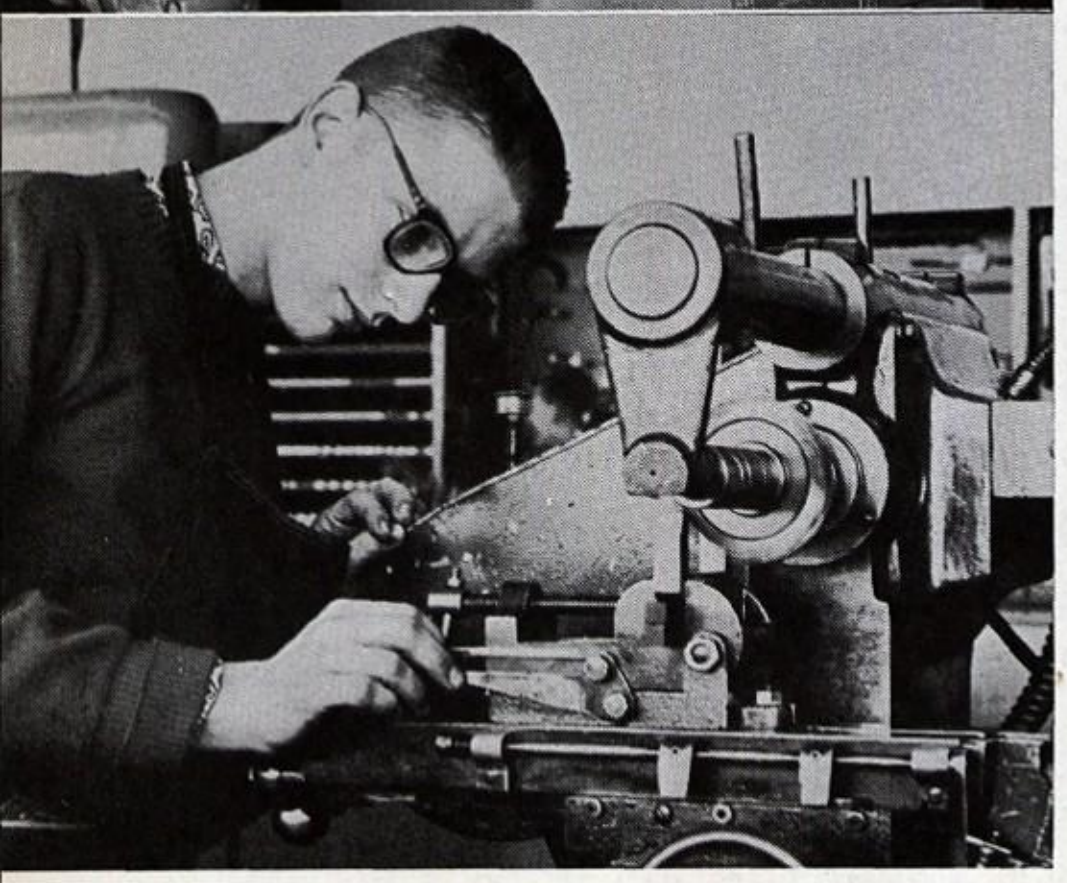
Sue Ramsey watches as Fred Thomas creates an original design in advanced design class.



John Drew, Doug Miller, Sonny Schnippel, Milford McClory work busily in Mr. Strawn's drafting class.

In Modern Workshops





These boys develop skills in wood working.

Mike Hirschauer operates a modern machine in the metal shop.

We at SHS have a modern and spacious industrial arts department. The courses provide a knowledge in the operation of various tools and machines, and teach an appreciation for the techniques of industry. Pupils also learn safety habits and methods of organization which might aid them in any vocation. The class week is divided between textbook study and practical application.

Drafting, also called mechanical drawing, is recommended for those planning careers in engineering or any other technological field. After the basic exploratory course, in which pupils may advance at individual speeds, students may enroll in Engineering Drawing and Architectural Drawing. Mr. Strawn, the instructor, hopes that Architectural Drawing may be expanded from the detailed planning of buildings to their actual construction.

Advanced Woodworking and Furniture Making, also taught by Mr. Strawn, give experience to anyone contemplating a vocation in carpentry or cabinet making. Woodworking is also a good hobby for one who likes to work with his hands. Students turn out several and varied pieces of furniture.

Mr. Davies' students learn to operate an array of foreboding machines in metal shop class after a few weeks of instruction. This course emphasizes coordination in handling the tools, and could serve as preparation for a trade.

Keith Theobald and Alton Adkins construct a hog crate in the agriculture shop.

S.H.S. Boys Prepare for Future Vocations

Our vocational agriculture course offers on-the-job training for employment in agriculture or related fields. This type of work composes 40% of all available jobs according to SHS instructor, Garnett Winchester.

During a three-year course in agriculture, the pupils spend two-thirds of all class time studying modern methods and new ideas. The remainder of the class time is devoted to shop work and tours where the boys apply what they have learned. Considerable time is allowed for money-making and improvement projects. For instance, a student might choose to raise swine or to "tune-up" a tractor. Keeping records on these projects lends experience in organizing data.

The Future Farmers of America is a national organization for boys in vocational agriculture. Primarily it aims to develop agricultural leadership, cooperation, and citizenship in its members. Its motto "Learning to do; Doing to learn; Earning to live; Living to serve" carries a universal message. The club has official ritual, creed, emblem, and colors. Although FFA and 4-H Clubs are not affiliated, the two work on similar projects.

This year our FFA participated in judging, demonstrations, and forestry and crop identifications. The finance committee again raised money by selling seeds.

Officers for 1961-1962 were: president, Max McColley; vice-president, Larry Wood; secretary, Keith Theobald; treasurer, Mike Hine, reporter, Ken Clark; and sentinel, Bill Carter.

WE belong to

organizations

Although students at SHS are very busy with lessons and homework, most of us find time to be active members of at least one of the school sponsored organizations. Many of the teachers take time from their crowded schedules to be club sponsors.

There are clubs of all descriptions to meet the interest of every student. We have organizations to prepare us for future vocations, and to acquaint us with avocations. In meeting to discuss current world problems, and to actually supervise student government, we will become better citizens. Some clubs stress Christian virtues which teach us to be more thoughtful persons.

These organizations give us an excellent opportunity to utilize our excess time and energy in a constructive way. They teach us how to use parliamentary procedure, how to conduct ourselves in an organized group, and how to accept responsibility. Through careful planning by their sponsors and officers, our organizations add interest and variety to the happy years spent at SHS.

Student Government Is Headed By

Marcille Keppel, SHS treasurer, instructed the treasurers of all school organizations in a Student Council project.

Since our inauguration seven years ago, the Student Council has made great progress in the operations of student government. Our purpose is best stated in the preamble of the Student Council's constitution: "To establish a medium of association and cooperation with the principal and the faculty on school matters; to encourage and promote a finer school spirit; to create respect and ambition for high scholastic attainment; and to further the general welfare of this high school."

This year our council was composed of a group of twenty-five elected home room representatives. In addition to these, ex-officio members were the three class presidents and the editor of the Squib.

Our 1961-62 officers were as follows: Don Thompson, president; Ronnie Cole, vice president; Pat McComas, recording secretary; Kathy Briggs, corresponding secretary; Phil Kuhn, treasurer; and Dave Moore, parliamentarian.

The faculty advisors, Rita Fern Comstock, and Frank Barnes, were very helpful to us with our projects.

The major event we sponsored was the annual Fall Wind-Up Dance honoring the boys who participated in any fall sports activity. A court was chosen, and Judy Owens reigned over it as queen. We also began a new project, a school of instruction for all officers of school-sponsored organizations. Other activities were an informal dance following the homecoming game, and management of all class elections.

The Executive Committee is designed to increase the efficiency and the effectiveness of the Student Council. It meets before each council meeting to plan the items to be discussed, to act on matters of lesser importance which need not concern the council and to talk over problems and future projects.

All amendments to the Student Council constitution must originate in the Executive Committee and be passed by a two-thirds majority before being referred to the council for consideration. Another function of the committee is to act as the caretaker of the constitution of the Student Council.

The Executive Committee works on the same projects as does the Student Council because it is, in a sense, an organization within the council.

The Student Council Executive Committee consists of the officers of the Student Council, the officers of each class, the SQUIB editor-in-chief, and a sophomore, junior, and senior elected from the Student Council membership. Rita Fern Comstock and Frank Barnes sponsor this organization.

World Problems Are "Solved" in Forum

Wilfred Coers, Gene Damm, and Mary Jo Soller study for Forum.

As members of Forum we met bi-weekly in evening sessions to discuss international, national, and local problems. The questions were chosen from some of the more pressing crises. We had to do outside research work on these questions and bring in pertinent articles for the others to see and read.

The Forum has several purposes: to promote student thinking about the state of the world around us, to teach us to arrange our thoughts and deliver them in the best possible way, and to permit students to discuss political and social problems in preparation for voting and active participation in politics.

At each meeting the members evaluated each other as to: participation, interest, respect, knowledge, strength in arguments, ability to detect weaknesses, and preparation. These evaluations were used to isolate a group which was consistently the best. This Forum Honor Group had the privilege and responsibility of leading both Forum and Discussion Group sessions. The Honor Group judged and graded Discussion Group members according to their possibility of measuring up to the Forum standards in preparation for membership in the parent organization. The members of this group were awarded pins at the end of the year in formal recognition of all the extra hard work and thought which goes into becoming a member of the Forum Honor Group.

The officers of Forum were as follows: Mike Mount, president; Janet Kaster, vice-president; Gaye Walts, treasurer; and Anne Brant, secretary. Both the Forum and the Forum Honor Group are sponsored jointly by Ray Hinshaw and Ron Abrell.

Hi-Y Club

"To create, maintain, and extend high standards of Christian character throughout the school and community," is the purpose of the Hi-Y, an affiliation of the National and State Y.M.C.A.

Activities for the past year were the weekly prayer over the public address system, special convocations on Thanksgiving and Easter, coat checking service at the basketball games, and, in the spring, their annual picnic. The highlight of the year was the two days of counseling about teenage problems by Mr. Frank B. Liddle.

Mark Mount led the organization as president, assisted by Mike Thomas as vice-president, Jim Kremer as secretary, Alan Koehler as treasurer, Jerry Stewart as chaplin, and Bob Knight as sergeant-at-arms.

Loren "Hank" Hemingway sponsored the organization with Doc Barnett and Alan Coyner as advisors.

". . . . and you'll be proud of that little house down the road."

Future Nurses

Future Nurses Club gives interested junior and senior girls an insight into the field of nursing. This is accomplished through films and speeches by registered nurses.

Some members relinquished their study periods to work in the clinic where they kept records and cared for the sick. As in previous years, some members volunteered to work as nurses' aids in the local hospital.

Doloris McDonald sponsors this group in co-operation with Nellie Strait, the school nurse. The officers were: Anne Brant, president; Penny Jones, vice-president; Sue Cord, secretary; and Mary Jo Soller, treasurer.

Mask and Dagger

Our dramatic club, the Mask and Dagger, was very active this year. Under the direction of J. Daniel Kocher, teacher of English and speech, we presented three one-act plays — "Ladies of the Mop", which was directed by Kathy Briggs; "A Date with Barbara"; and "Oh Baby."

For these presentations we trained crews to work on make-up, lighting, and properties. The purpose of our organization is to provide an opportunity to participate in dramatics to those who are interested, whether it be on stage or behind the scene.

Directing the club's activities were Kathy Briggs, president; Steve Runnebohm, vice president; and Bob Stickles, secretary-treasurer.

Future Teachers

To acquaint SHS juniors and seniors with all the phases of teaching, in which they show an interest, is the purpose of our Future Teachers Association. Guest speakers and films at the monthly programs gave the members a more clear understanding of the field of teaching. Some of the future teachers did cadet teaching in the local grade and junior high schools while others assisted our science departments.

Officers for this year were Sue Cord, president; Barbara Benefiel, vice-president; and Elizabeth Ellison, secretary-treasurer. Sponsoring the group was Louis Kuhn.

Library Club

To most of us at SHS, the most popular place to study and browse is the library. The library is kept neat and orderly by our efficient library club. They take care of the check-out desk during their study periods, straighten book shelves, keep the card catalogue in order, and help students find study material.

This year the eight members of the club were led by Judy Cowin, president; Sandy Douglas, vice-president; and Ruth Ann Bennett, secretary-treasurer. The sponsor of the group was Olive Kinsley, our librarian.

Sunshine Society Spreads Cheer

The first Indiana chapter of International Sunshine Society was founded in Crawfordsville in 1901. The main purpose of the Society is to spread kindness, helpfulness, cheerfulness, and happiness to those in need. Membership, which is open to all interested high school girls, can be very rich and rewarding if one has something to contribute to the organization.

By undertaking various projects this year, the girls enriched their lives by helping others. These enthusiastic groups sold candy to raise contributions for the James Whitcomb Riley Hospital fund, donated baskets of food to the needy at Christmas time, and presented small gifts and entertainment to the occupants of the County Home. Social functions included decorating a Christmas tree for the school and holding the annual Mother-and-Daughter Tea in May. The top policy-making body, the Sunshine Cabinet, composed of all officers and sponsors, decided the projects to be used.

The Senior Sunshine Society was directed by the following persons: president, Mary Ann Bennett; vice-president, Judy Cowin; secretary-treasurer, Janet Kaster; and sponsor, Blanche Ashby.

The officers of the Junior Sunshine Society were Mary Jane Dennis, president; Lana Jo Livingston, vice-president; Gloria Spurling, secretary-treasurer. Sponsoring the group was Lorena Williams.

The president of the Sophomore group was Shari Long; Jean O'Mara served as vice president; and Geraldine Reber was secretary-treasurer. Their sponsor was Aleeta Kinder.

Journalism Class Writes Courier

Ruth Ann Kennedy and John Tobin informed the community about the high school through their column in the Shelbyville News.

"We Carry The News To You" is Courier's slogan. Every three weeks, under the direction of Miss Marion Chenoweth, the journalism classes published the Courier. Once a year the journalism students let their imaginations run rampant when they put out a special April Fool edition called the Scurrier — "We Ferry The Fibs To You."

During one semester of journalism the students become acquainted with all aspects of the journalistic profession. They try their skill in salesmanship by selling advertising space to local business firms and subscriptions to students to finance the paper. Before the Courier can be published, the staff must gather news, then write and edit the paper. All the students write sports stories, features, straight news stories, and personal interviews. Other activities include learning to set type, to write headlines, and to use the copyreading and proofreading symbols.

For many years the Courier has exchanged papers with other high schools. Sometimes ideas from the exchange papers can be used in Courier and by SHS organizations. This year Courier was exchanged with papers from twelve high schools in Indiana, one in Oregon, and one in Illinois.

Every semester the class members visit the Shelbyville News, where they tour the plant and observe how the daily newspaper is published.

The Shelbyville News also awards scholarships to two outstanding junior journalism students. These scholarships entitle the winners to attend the annual High School Journalism Institute, Newspaper Division, held during the summer at Indiana University. The following year, the winners write the daily high school news column for the News. Winners of last year's scholarships, who wrote this year's column, were Ruth Anne Kennedy and John Tobin.

Radio Club

Under the leadership of Mr. Davies, our Radio Club members study code and theory in order to attain licenses. Morse code is used to talk, as it is easier relayed than the voice. Studying the theory, based on electronics, may interest the students in that field for future work. Amateur radio operators may meet new friends through this medium. From the SHS call K9GVL, the fourteen members have heard other amateurs from all over the world.

The purpose of the club was fulfilled this year as five licenses were granted. Richard Farrow, Doug Horton, and Bruce Bottorff qualified for one-year novice licenses. Freddie Conger earned the five-year technician license with restriction to certain frequencies. Pat Wagner received the five-year general license without restrictions.

Officers for 1961-1962 were Mark Comstock, president; Bob Stickles, vice-president; Ruth Anne Kennedy, secretary; Edmund Kennedy, treasurer.

Camera Club

Shelbyville High School welcomed a new organization this year, the Camera Club. The purpose of this club is to help its members gain more knowledge of photography and also to give them practical experience in this field.

The club's main function has been furnishing snapshots of SHS students, classes, and clubs in action to The Shelbyville News. With the money we received from this we plan to buy more equipment for the school darkroom. During the year we have learned how to use and take care of a camera, how to develop and process our own film, and how to print and enlarge our own pictures.

The sponsor of our club was Mr. Jerry Need, the physics and chemistry teacher, and our technical advisor is Stan Koester from The Shelbyville News. The officers of the club were as follows: Bill Sherwood, president; Eugene Bryer, vice-president; Donna Skinner, secretary; and Gene Damm, treasurer.

Music Department Entertains Widely

The SHS Music Department directed by Martin Schulz has always been a spokesman of good will to the community and surrounding neighborhoods, as well as to the rest of the school. This year music students again entertained widely. The Robed Choir with its 83 voices performed for Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter programs at school, and presented their annual sacred concert at the Methodist Church. They also appeared at the May Festival and Baccalaureate, and entertained service clubs and neighboring schools. Officers for the choir were Anne Staats, president; Mike Staats, vice-president; Beverly L. Morrison, secretary-treasurer.

The Singing Stars consisted of 17 girls, selected on the basis of voice quality, personality, and showmanship. Officers for this year were Emily McKeand, president; Mary Jo Soller, vice-president; Penny Jones, secretary-treasurer; Anne Brant, librarian; and Mary Ann Fisher, accompanist.

The Boys' Glee Club members were also chosen by these standards. Their officers were Mark Mount, president; Mike Mount, vice-president; Wilfred Coers, secretary-treasurer; and David Brewer, librarian.

The Show Group composed of the Singing Stars, members of the Boys' Glee Club, and special dancers presented variety shows for various organizations. The theme song of the show is "There's No Business Like Show Business" and their final number is traditionally "The Lord Bless You and Keep You."

All groups of the music department brought honors to Shelby High from the music contests. There were 23 firsts and 20 seconds in the district contests. In the state contest there were nine firsts and eight seconds. The first place winners of the state were Janet Fox, Margaret Gushwa, Linda Jones, Rick Lorenz, Carolyn Meiks, Gerald Mohr, Judy Trees, and the Singing Stars.

BAND

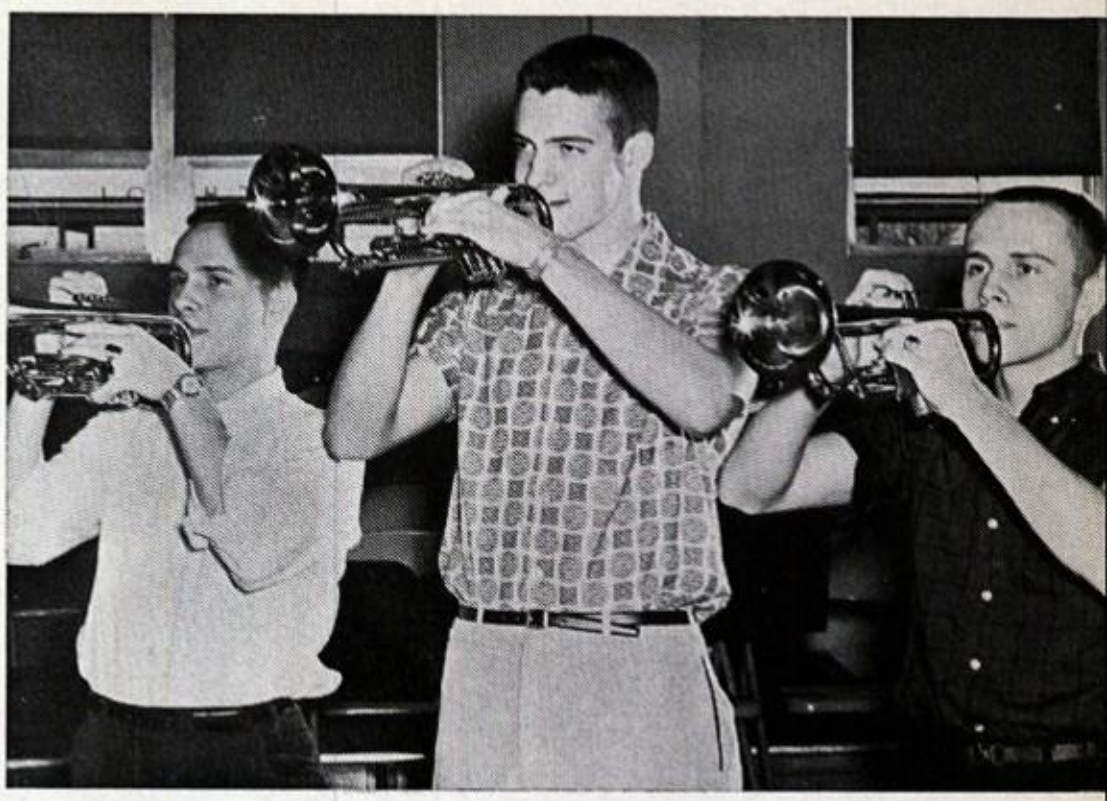
The Shelbyville High School band under the direction of Francis Chesser contributes a very important part to school spirit. Led by our drum major, Gary Hamner, and the majorettes, we presented many half-time programs at the football games. During the basketball season our majorettes presented special programs during the half-time periods for the entertainment of the fans. Our band officers this year were Allen Pence, president; Steve Lancaster, vice-president; and Bob Longstreet, secretary-treasurer.

Our dance band, known as the Goldenaires, was organized late this year because many of the members were inexperienced. The band, however, did play at the May Festival as is its custom.

This year the band sold candy in the hope of raising money to buy new uniforms. Through this project we raised almost one thousand dollars. The annual band concert in March offered us another opportunity to raise money for this goal.

During the month of November, the band members begin to set their sights on music contest medals waiting to be won in February. We have always had a good showing at these contests, and this year was no exception. SHS musicians earned ten First Division placings with solos and five First Division placings in ensembles.



Mike Mount, Allen Pence, and Mark Mount practice their trumpet trio for the district music contest.

These girls performed a rhythm dance to drum accompaniment at the 1962 May Festival.

WE participate

in many sports

Athletics play a very important part in the life of the students of Shelbyville High School. This year, through the efforts of our fine coaching staff, Shelby High was well represented in its athletic program.

Our football team provided us with many thrills as always, but perhaps the biggest thrill of all was provided by our basketball team which, under the leadership and coaching of a new coach, won the sectional tournament at Columbus.

Track and baseball had not yet got under way when the Squib went to press, but Mr. Zimny and Mr. Blind, track and baseball coaches, both expected good seasons this year with a fine group of underclassmen coming up in both sports.

We, the students of Shelbyville High School, wish to congratulate all of our fellow students who have represented us so well in our athletic program. Not once have they shown anything but good clean sportsmanship and spirit.

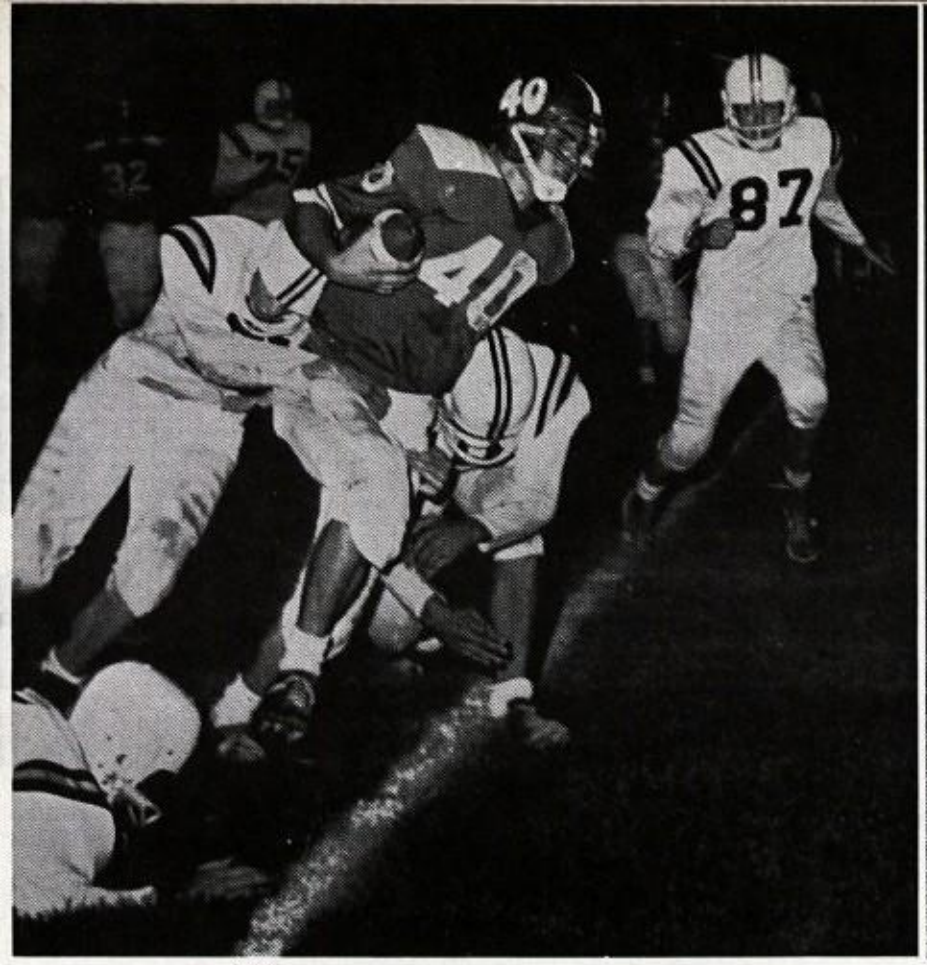
Lack of Size and Number Hampers Bears

There was a fair turnout of varsity candidates when practice for the 1961 football season began as usual on August 15. The Golden Bear squad, led by Bob Zimny, head coach, and Art Morgan and Eugene McNew, assistant coaches, lacked the size of previous years; however the overall speed in every position was better, and the spirit was good all season.

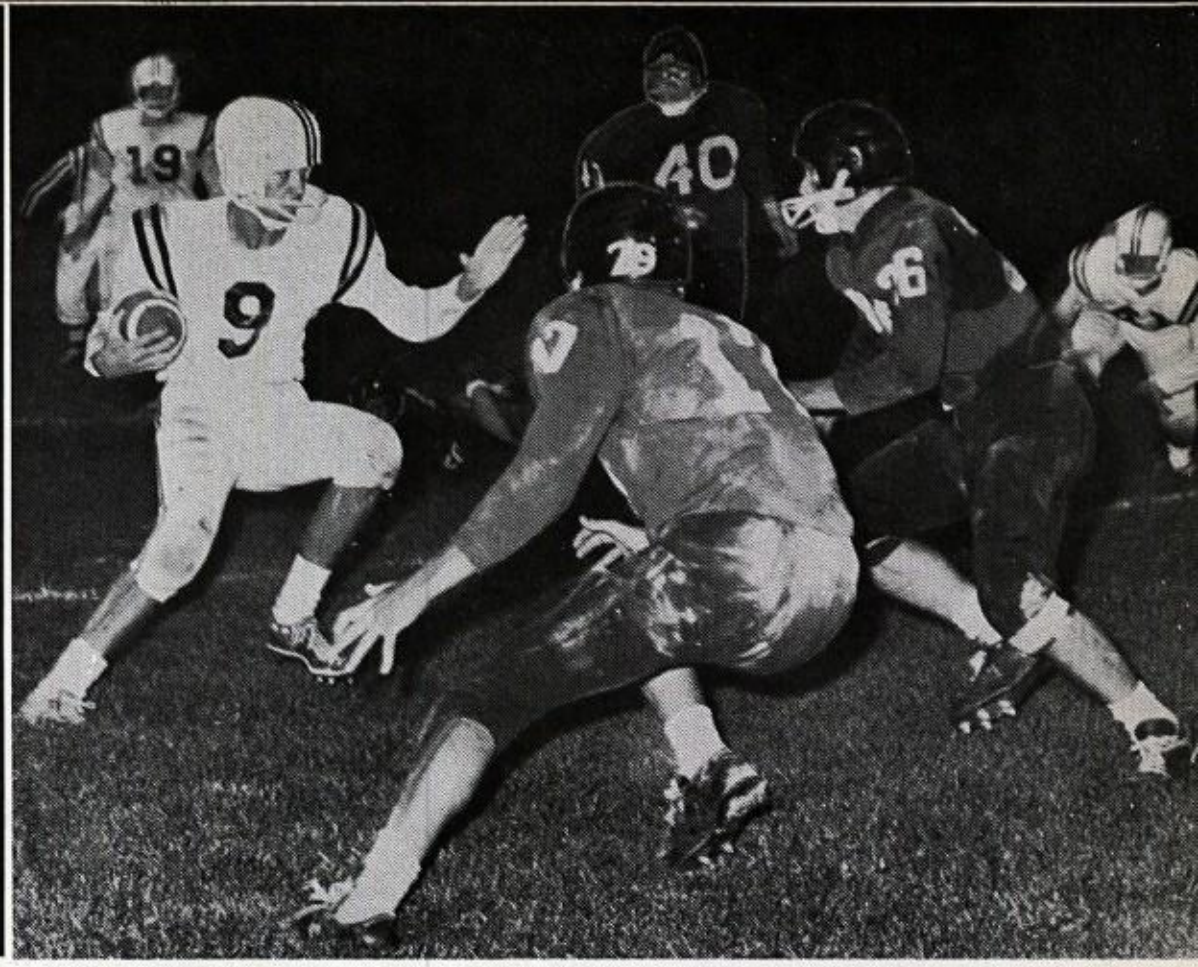
The first game was lost to our new foe Brookville at their home field. The home stand opened with Seymour and again our opponents outscored us. We had our ups and downs, but on the whole, the season was rather successful because the team continued to improve throughout the year. The Bears looked good on offense and defense especially in the three Conference wins over Rushville, Greensburg, and Franklin. Shelbyville finished in fifth place in the South Central Conference race, owing to a three win and three loss record. Two team members, Lonnie Walker and Tom Johnson, were named to the all S.C.C. team, while Wendell Bernard, Al Koehler, and Tom Patterson received honorable mention on the all conference team.

Although many members from this year's squad will graduate, the outlook for the next year should be encouraging. The reserve team was made up of juniors and sophomores who could develop into better players with practice. Our football team will strive for more size and depth in the 1962 season in order to achieve a better record.

	SHS	Opponent
Brookville	7	36
Seymour	20	38
Rushville	13	0
Southport	0	38
Greensburg	26	7
Franklin	27	14
Columbus	6	34
Connersville	13	25
Greenfield	25	14



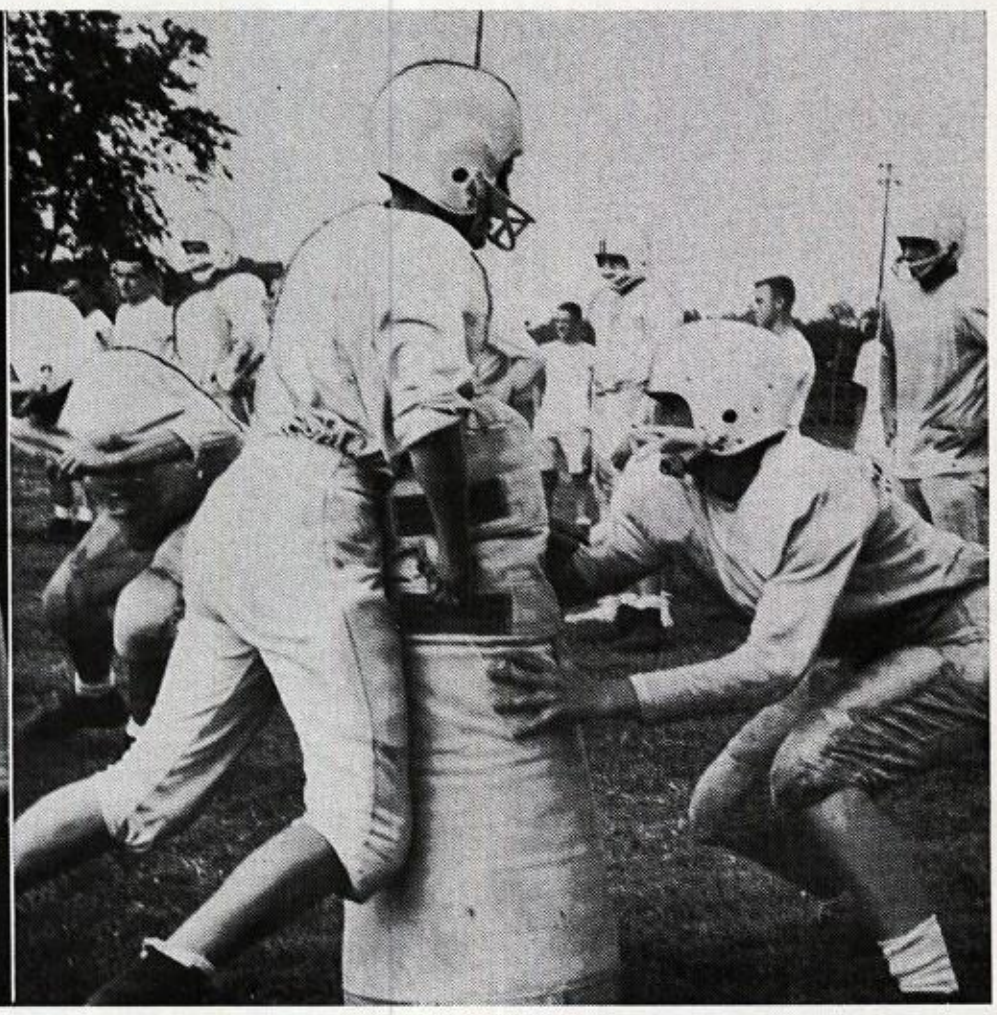
Hit 'em again, hit 'em again, harder ! harder !



Al Koehler goes around the end for a gain aided by Tom Patterson and Mike Mount.

But Team Has Fighting Spirit All Season

Football managers: Randy Weingarth, Elmer Freese, and Steve Carwein



Our football boys start early and work hard to prepare for the season.

David Guest, a representative of Kiwanis presented the Kiwanis award for football to Wendell Bernard.

KIWANIS AWARD

Wendell Bernard, senior lineman and defensive star, was the 1961 winner of football's highest award, the Kiwanis medal. This award has been given annually since 1927. The medal is awarded each year by a committee composed of the coaches, the school principal, and three Kiwanis members, to Shelbyville's top athlete in football. The award is given for playing ability, general attitude, leadership, and scholastic ability.

Wendell has been a member of the varsity football team for three years, and, with the exception of end, has played every position on the line with the desire and ability that it takes to make an outstanding athlete. Last year, as a junior, Wendell was named to the all S.C.C. football team. Also this year, he was the first to receive the newly established outstanding lineman of the year award. He was also named co-captain of the football team by his teammates, along with three year letterman and half-back Alan Koehler. Wendell was hampered early in the season by a serious head injury, but he came back to work as hard as ever, showing his real dedication to the sport.

Athletic Awards

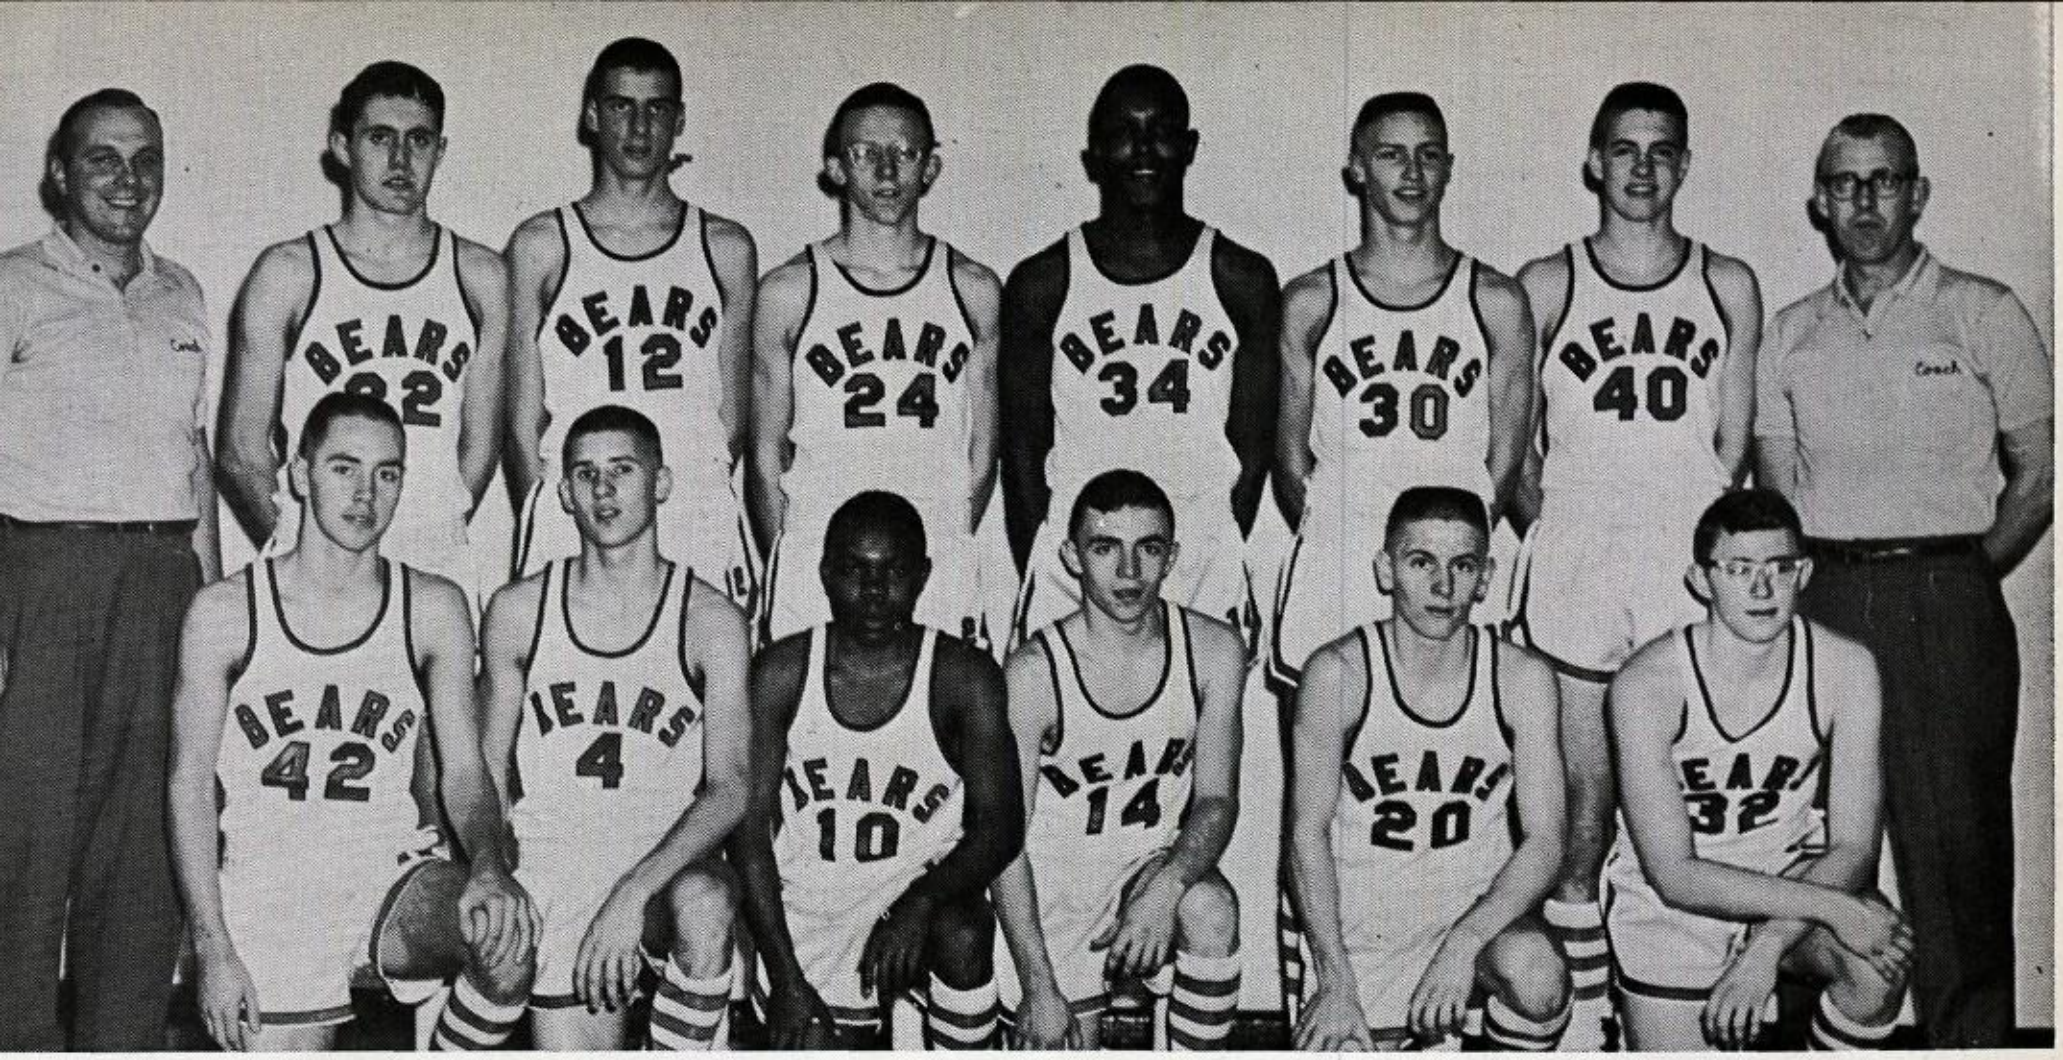
J. W. O. Breck presents the Paul Cross Award to Lonnie Walker.

PAUL CROSS AWARD

Lonnie Walker, three year letter winner and Golden Bear center, was awarded the 43rd annual Paul Cross Award. The recipient of this coveted honor is chosen from the senior varsity basketball team members on the basis of athletic ability, character, sportsmanship, and scholarship. City School Superintendent J. W. O. Breck made the presentation at the annual Athletic Awards Day in March.

Lonnie, who is 6'4", averaged 15 points each game during his senior year and collected about 14 rebounds along with his scoring. Thus he helped the team both offensively and defensively. He was elected most valuable player of the Golden Bear team by his teammates, and was named to the South Central Conference honorary team by the principals and coaches of that association. Nominated by Indiana sportscasters and sportswriters for possible participation in the Indiana All Star Basketball Game along with Lonnie Walker, was Dave Spannbauer, senior guard and two letter winner. Coach Dennis Blind also awarded the honorary co-captain stars to Dave Spannbauer and three letter guard Alan Koehler, who were elected by their teammates.

At Awards Day, all qualifying varsity and reserve team members and managers received letters for their participation.



Row I. Alan Koehler, Dave Spannbauer, Charles Gardner, Phil Kuhn, Ronnie Cole, Dan Barnett.

The Golden Bears' new coach this year was Dennis Blind, a former member of the Purdue University basketball team, who came to SHS from Warsaw. Loren Hemingway, a member of the 1947 Shelbyville State Champion team, served as assistant coach, a post he has held for the past three years. Coach Blind initiated a new system of grading each player's performance in a game both offensively and defensively, in order to teach the team the technique of playing basketball through statistics as well as physical practice. Tabulating these figures during the games became the duty of the team managers. In an effort to cope with a losing streak, the coaches added some new training rules during the last month of the season. The team exercised each morning and evening by walking from the Paul Cross Gym to the high school building to attend classes, and then back to the gym for ball practice. Team members and managers also forfeited dating privileges and observed new curfew hours.

The Bears started the season well, winning five games out of their first eight contests. At the New Year's Tourney at Connersville the Bears finished third of four teams. In the South Central Conference, Shelbyville placed 6th, tying with Greensburg and Rushville. Going into the sectional SHS was predicted to be a decisive underdog to Columbus and Brown County; however after two very thrilling games with Hauser and Waldron, the Bears advanced to the championship by triumphing over Brown County. Displaying the best team effort seen all year, the Golden Bears came through with the spirit of real champions.

In the regional the Bears, hitting a cold 26 percent of their field goal attempts, were downed in the first game by Greensburg.

It may be a happy occasion, but cutting that net is a serious job to Mr. Blind.

RESERVE BASKETBALL TEAM

This year's Reserve Basketball Team was coached by Art Morgan, SHS history and driving teacher. The reserve team got off to a running start this year winning its first four games, and then tapered off to a final 9-11 season. The reserve team's main function is preparing players for the varsity team. The boys are taught the different plays of the varsity and the various types of defenses that are used. The B-team, used as either a defensive or offensive team, often scrimmaged with the varsity. Sometimes some of the boys on the team are moved up to the varsity in the middle of the season. Such was the case this year with Ronnie Cole, Phil Kuhn, and Richard Adams. The only tourney the reserve team has is one with the same teams that the varsity plays in the New Year's Tourney. This tourney enables the boys to become better acquainted with the teams they will have to vie with when they play in the New Year's Tourney.

The 1961-1962 reserve team had many good players, but it was paced by Richard Damm, Tom Strawn, Steve Lackey, and Steve LaBarbara who will all probably help the varsity next year.

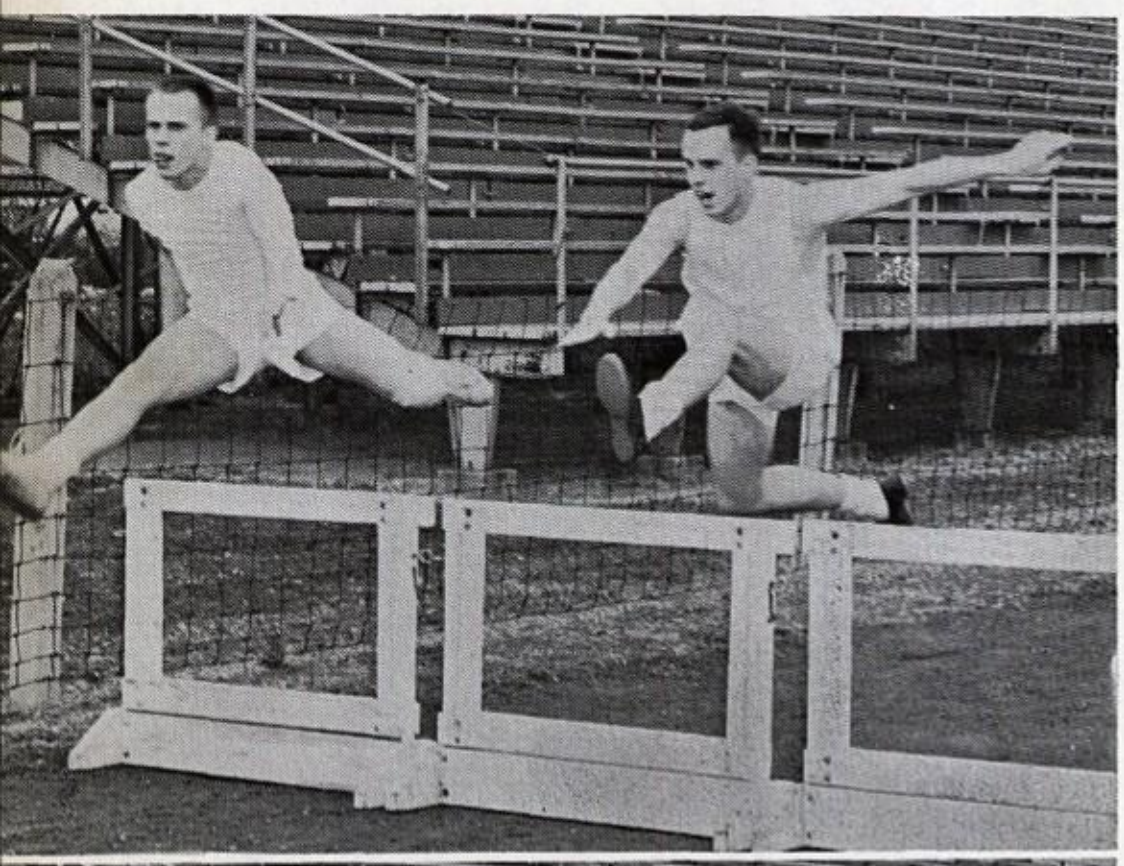
Local Cindermen Have Rebuilding Year



It was a year of rebuilding for the SHS cindermen coached by Bob Zimny and Eugene McNew, as the 1960-1961 track team was not too successful. The Golden Bears placed last in the 1960-1961 South Central Conference track meet, the only scorers for Shelbyville being Al Koehler and Wilfred Coers in the 440-yard run. The majority of the scoring throughout the season was done by juniors and sophomores, and the freshmen thinlies showed promise. Thus, the 1961-1962 track team should be an improvement over last year because many lettermen and experienced boys are returning.

This year, along with Coers in the 440-yard run, Randy Long in the 880-yard run and Larry Brewer in both the 100-yard dash and the 220-yard run should be outstanding runners. The mile run and the mile relay should be two of our better events, while the low hurdles with Mike Mount and Mark Mount should be a fairly strong event. The high hurdles should improve this year, though it will probably not become one of our stronger events. Our weaknesses will most likely lie in our field events in the shot put, pole vault, and high jump. (When this write-up was done the track season had not yet opened for 1962.)

Baseball Team Relies on Strong Fielding

BASEBALL

Although the baseball season had not yet begun when we went to press, our team hoped to earn a good record this spring. Many of last year's lettermen were expected to return in order to strengthen the team. Eugene McKinney, shortstop, and Tom Patterson, outfielder, were anticipated to be two of the better hitters. However, the team felt the need to develop stronger batting power. Dave Spannbauer was expected to do most of our pitching. Nevertheless, there was a lack of depth in the pitching staff. Good fielding was thought to be the strong point of the SHS baseball team as their coaches, Dennis Blind and Art Morgan, and they optimistically faced a challenging schedule.

Tennis

The tennis team was coached this year by Loren Hemingway. The varsity team was made up of three seniors: John Drew, Don Thompson, and Ben Frank; one junior, Mike Shadley; and one sophomore, Scott Griffey. Before the Conference, the varsity had two matches, with Columbus and Southport; we were victorious over Columbus. In the Conference, Thompson and Drew played singles while Frank and Griffey teamed up to play doubles. The reserve team was composed of three juniors: Larry Moberly, Bill Williams, and Joe Riemenschneider. With the loss of three seniors this year the team is wide open for competition next year.

Cross Country

The Cross Country team, made up of mostly sophomores, juniors, and a few seniors, had a year of rebuilding. The thinlies, under the leadership of a new coach, Dennis Blind, had a not too outstanding year. They are all young boys and could develop into good runners by their senior year. The turnout for cross country was better than in years past, and this was an encouraging factor for the new coach, Mr Blind. The boys worked hard all season and gave it their best. With the boys coming up the outlook for 1962-1963 is good.

Golf

This year's golf team was very triumphant. The team won its meets with Rushville and Franklin, and also won the South Central Conference, held at Greensburg in September. The team won with a low score of 334 strokes outclassing its closest opponent by 10 strokes. Dave Spannbauer, a senior, was the outstanding golfer in the Conference with a low score of 72 strokes beating the nearest contender by 9 strokes and missing the Conference record by only one. The team, coached by Frank Barnes, as it has been for the past sixteen years, won the Conference for the second time since 1958. With the loss of only one senior this year and with the return of four other members of the team, next year's outlook for golf is very promising.

Clubs Uphold Sports and Scholarship

"S" CLUB

The Varsity "S" Club of SHS has a membership of 44 boys who have earned varsity letters and have maintained scholastic averages of 81 or higher. Its purpose is to uphold a high regard for athletic awards, to stand for high scholarship and clean sportsmanship, and to provide fellowship and friendship to its members.

Annually money is raised by handling concessions at the home football games. This year the club contributed toward a fund for the purchase of a whirlpool bath for the athletic department to give physio-therapy to such aliments as charley-horses.

Each spring the "S" Club holds its annual picnic for members and their guests. An invitation to this event is considered valuable as it is one of the social highlights of the season.

Officers for 1961-1962 were Wendell Bernard, president; Randy Long, vice-president; Mike Thomas, secretary-treasurer. Arthur (Doc) Barnett has sponsored the "S" Club in cooperation with the entire athletic staff for 25 years.

N.A.S.S.

The National Athletic Scholarship Society has as its purpose excellence in scholarship and athletics. To be eligible for N.A.S.S., a boy must have received the varsity "S" in one of the four major sports, or two letters in minor sports and carry at least 87 per cent scholastic average. New members are announced in the spring on Award Day.

Boys Back Team With Banners and Chants

The Boys' Cheer Block, in its fourth year, played an active part in creating our school spirit. These boys, garbed in their official dress of white shirts, gold suspenders, and black derbys, formed a block at all home basketball games. They also attended the sectional at Columbus to help back our team.

The special feature of this group was the pep banners which bolstered basketball enthusiasm with such sayings as "Santa Claus likes Bears." In addition to their own chants, the boys assisted the Girls' Booster Club with several yells.

Membership in this organization was open to all sophomore, junior, and senior boys who wanted to support our Golden Bears. This year the officers were Mike Thomas, president; Randy Long, vice-president; and Dick Moore, secretary-treasurer. Ray Beck sponsored the group.

Mr. Beck distributes regional tickets to Cheer Block members.

Girls Promote School Spirit

BOOSTER CLUB

Our Booster Club this year consisted of approximately 120 sophomore, junior, and senior girls. Membership in this organization is open to all girls who are interested in supporting their team and keeping the school spirit high. With the aid of the Boys' Cheer Block and the cheerleaders, we did our best to keep up the morale of the team whether we were winning or losing.

Another way we tried to promote school spirit was by putting posters in the halls before each basketball game. We also held pep sessions to learn new yells and boost team morale. One of our popular new yells which drew the attention of the entire crowd was "Grrreat!"

The accessories of the Booster Club this year were black and gold reversible capes and mittens. We used these to make various formations for our Booster Block at the home basketball games.

The New Year's Tourney at Connersville and the Sectional at Columbus are the two main tournaments of the year for the Golden Bears. Our Booster Club attended these games, and at Columbus we formed a block to support our team.

The sponsor of our group was Mrs. Betty Ramey, the physical education instructor at Shelbyville Junior High School. Our president was Lynn Solomon; vice-president, Ann Staats; secretary, Judy Owens; and treasurer, Pat Ryan.

G. A. A. Provides Exercise for Girls at S. H. S.

The Girls' Athletic Association is an organization to promote girls' athletics. In our organization the girls are given an opportunity to officiate as well as participate in the activities. This year we took part in many playdays and intramural sports. Among them were bowling, volleyball, baseball, and basketball. A bowling playday was held at Shelbyville sponsored by our G.A.A. with girls from Southwestern and Triton attending. By taking part in the sports offered and in the special point days we earned points for pins, letters, and plaques.

Our purpose is to develop the girls' appreciation for sports and to promote ideals in health and sportsmanship. The officers for this year were Emily McKeand, president; Ann Schoelch, vice-president; Becky Whitcomb, secretary; Debbie Wright, treasurer; and Sheila Roberts, point captain. The group's sponsor is Mrs. Betty Ramey, the physical education instructor at Shelbyville Junior High School.

Our varsity cheerleaders this year were Nancy Nauert, Rosalie Wendling, Pat McComas, and Cheryl Knoebel, seniors, and Jean Gehr, a junior. Under the direction of Mrs. Betty Ramey they led yells at our varsity football and basketball games. They often practiced after school and during convocation periods, working continually to perfect their jumping, and to work out new motions to pep up old yells. These girls attended a cheerleaders' conference in Columbus this winter to learn new techniques in cheerleading.

Leading yells at the games was just one of the various activities of the cheerleaders. They worked with the Booster Club, to plan new yells and formations for the cheer block. Another important duty was instilling in the student body an enthusiasium to attend the games by holding pep sessions.

Our Reserve Team cheerleaders, Terry Wagner, Dottie Owens, Shari Long, and Barbara Hey, not only gave support to the reserve team but also helped the varsity cheerleaders with several yells.

WE are the people of S. H. S.

The citizens of Shelbyville are proud of their secondary school system. The Junior High School, once the home of all high school pupils, now accommodates over 800 students, while the Senior High School is already planning to add 12 classrooms next year to take care of enrollments beyond 600. However, without the people to transform these buildings into institutions of learning, these structures would have no significance. It was once thought in times past that school meant a teacher on one end of a bench and a pupil on the other. Of course, the students interested in learning and the teachers devoted to teaching continue to make up the nucleus of the SHS education system. Our school board, superintendent, principals, and all administrative personnel decide school policy, handle finances, and keep records to insure progress in education. The custodians find their tasks in caring for the buildings, while the cooks work toward a deadline each noon.

Because people are the essence of our schools, we present them in order to show the reason for our successes as strongholds of knowledge. Only though the cooperation and dedication of all of us, have the schools prospered.

S. H. S. Cafeteria Also Serves Junior High

If anyone ever tried to plan and prepare lunches for about 650 people, he would understand why the seven full-time cooks start working at 7:30 each morning at SHS. Neither would it be surprising that a typical meal requires 120 pounds of hamburger, 175 pounds of potatoes, and 18 number ten cans of green beans. Or if chili were the main dish on the menu, he would soon discover that hungry students rapidly devour 30 gallons to appease their appetites.

With only a half hour for lunch, study break, and gabfest combined, we pupils appreciated being served quickly. The cafeteria accommodates 200 people in an hour of continuous service. Two cashiers and five students joined the seven cooks during the noon hour, and under the supervision of Avonelle Branson, the dietician, they perfected an assembly line process for serving food, taking money, and washing trays. Generally, three-fourth of the students ate in the regular lunch line, while the rest chose items from the snack line. It is popularly known that sandwich and chili lunches were favorites among students.

Beginning this year, the cooks at the senior high school also prepared the noon meal served at the junior high school. To supply a larger demand, new and more spacious oven, freezers, and cookers were installed in the kitchen. Electrically heated carts stored the food from 10:30, the time it left SHS, until it was served at JHS about an hour later.

The dietician periodically ordered government surplus products, which are awarded on the basis of the number of people served. This food is supplied primarily to insure balanced meals, rather than merely to distribute the surplus at random, as commonly thought. There was no revolving standard menu plan; in fact Mrs. Branson strived for a variety in food combinations so long as they went well together. But who could picture sauerkraut without mashed potatoes or chili without crackers ?

Custodians Approved for Good Housekeeping

CUSTODIANS

Any students who had a jammed locker became acquainted with our jovial head custodian, Dennis Wicker and his master key. Mr. Wicker and his staff of five kept a 24-hour vigil over the maintenance of our school building during the year. Only they can accurately tell us how many pieces of chalk were transformed into dust and how many pads of paper became wads of trash in a single school day. We are grateful to our custodial staff for providing us with a spotlessly clean daytime home.

One duty of the head custodian is to appear at all SHS sponsored events whether they are held at the high school or at the Paul Cross Gym. A group of four students policemen, Jim Montgomery, Bob Haas, Jerry McKinney, and Bob Henry, volunteered their services this year in directing traffic at these same events.

Another responsibility is to supervise the complicated heating system which is usually in operation from September until May. Unknown to many students, there is a basement under the two-story classroom section of the building which houses yards upon yards of pipes conducting hot air and cold air separately. The mixing of the two kinds of air is controlled by a thermostat, and the final mixture enters the classrooms directly above. In addition to this, a pipe conducting hot water produced in the familiar boiler room is located under the windows in each room, thus completing the heating system.

Furthermore, the custodian must oversee the functioning of the ventilation, water, gas, oil, phone, and electricity systems, in addition to helping with cafeteria work, replacing burned out light bulbs, and assembling the risers for the taking of Squib pictures.

At the junior high school, as at SHS, the custodial staff rendered a valuable service to insure the pleasant and efficient passing of each school day.

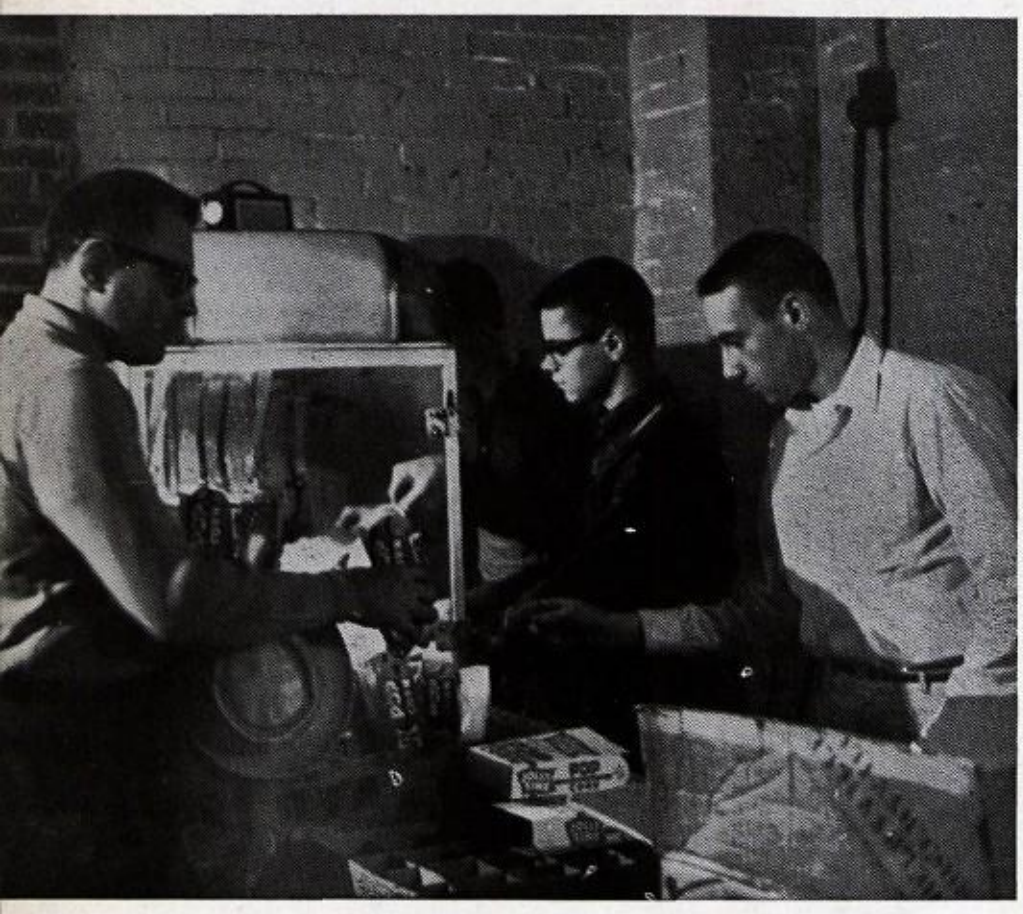
Hungry Basketball Fans Finance Squib



Randy Long and Steve Runnebohm sell popcorn to a hungry basketball fan, Rev. Felty.

In order to help finance the Squib, every year a group of senior boys and girls, traditionally known as the Concessionaires, volunteer to sell popcorn, ice cream, and cokes. They sell their treats to basketball enthusiasts at SHS home games and at the County Tourney held at the Paul Cross Gym. The Concessionaires were managed by Steve Mohr, and advised by Mr. Arthur Barnett and the Squib business staff. The girls elected Jo Ella Murray as president this year.

At their meetings the girls decided what to wear to each game. The Concessionaires also discussed how they could sell more and work more efficiently.

When the teams left the floor to relax during the half, the Concessionaires did anything but relax. Thirty girls donned yellow ruffly aprons to sell ice cream and popcorn and to assist the ten boys in managing the stands and in selling cokes. "Hurry" was the watchword of the Concessionaires as they rushed about to supply the demands of the crowd. For the people who didn't want to stretch their legs during the half, several Concessionaires sold refreshments in the bleachers.

All in all these cheerful servants brightened the aspect of the ball games while raising funds for the Squib.

An innovation for handling sales quite effectively was devised by Mr. Barnett. Each Concessionaire "bought" five dollars worth of refreshments, then set out to replenish his purse by selling these items. Knowing that each person was responsible for exactly five dollars worth of food simplified bookkeeping.

Squib Work Takes Long But Enjoyable Hours

We, the 1962 Squib Staff, spent many long but enjoyable hours preparing this book for you. At times we had inspirations, some of which did not materialize; at other times our minds seemed blank as we tried without immediate success to plan a page or to write a publicity skit. We have been discouraged and encouraged, disappointed and ecstatic.

We the business staff directed our efforts toward promoting sales, managing the Concessionaires, and handling the finances with the help of Mr. Barnett. During convocation periods we could be found in the confusion of the Squib room collecting money and sales receipts from the seniors and then trying to make them balance. We also drew posters to boost sales and sponsored a record dance (complete with "twist" contest) at the Rec to encourage early subscriptions.

We the editorial staff worked during convocation periods, study halls, vacations, and after school with Miss Cuskaden writing copy and cropping pictures. We kept in contact with the printer and photographer by phone and by car, asking questions, making appointments, and getting instructions. Some of us typed; some wrote; some cropped pictures; and some did all! We laughed at our mistakes and quickly tried to correct them, or we almost cried as we rewrote a copy block for the third time. We racked our brains to think of the right words to describe an exciting ball game or to decide on the right picture to portray an activity. We often wondered when our work would begin to resemble a yearbook and finally we found out!

Nancy Wasson, Mary Ann Fisher, and Janet Kaster stay after school to study plans for the 1962 Squib with Miss Cuskaden.

Ben Frank counts the subscription money as Tina Wendling keeps record. This was a familiar scene in the Squib room during convocation periods.

LORD MAYOR

Our Lord Mayor, Elton Linville, has been very active in school life in addition to maintaining his high scholastic average. Elton is a member of Hi-Y, Forum, Future Teachers, Squib Staff, and the Honor Society. Elton attended Boys' State and was chosen as one of the four delegates to attend the World Affair Institute in Cincinnati. After graduation Elton plans to attend Hanover College to be a history teacher.

VALEDICTORIAN

Janet Kaster has the honor of being this year's valedictorian. She is a member of Forum, Future Teachers, G.A.A., Booster Club, Sunshine Society, Honor Society and is assistant editor of the Squib. Janet attended Girls' State and was chosen as one of the delegates to attend the World Affairs Institute in Cincinnati. She plans to attend Indiana University to be an elementary school teacher.

D.A.R. WINNER

Emily McKeand was chosen as this year's D.A.R. good citizen. This award is given to the senior girl chosen by the students and the faculty on the basis of scholarship, leadership, attitude and personality. Emily has been very active in school organizations throughout high school. She is president of the G.A.A. and Singing Stars and is a member of the Robed Choir, Sunshine Society, Future Teachers, Booster Club and Honor Society.

COMMERCIAL AWARD

The Commercial Award is given to the most outstanding commercial student of the year by the Business and Professional Women's Club. Mary Helen Bowlby was the recipient of this year's award. This award is based on commerce grades, grades in other courses, and personality, which includes initative, cooperation, ability to follow directions, self-control, and attitude toward the school. A gift of $50 accompanies this award.

Honor Comes To Those Who Excel

One of the highest awards which can come to a graduating senior from SHS is membership in the National Honor Society. This organization stands for excellence in scholarship, which is an indication of continued academic success. Students chosen for Honor Society must have shown responsibility, cooperativeness, and achievement throughout their high school careers. They must also possess outstanding and wholesome character traits which will enable them to be valuable citizens and leaders in future communities. From the upper 25% of the senior class, based on 7 semesters of high school work, the SHS faculty elects 15% to National Honor Society.

On April 25, 1962 the alumni held a dinner and program to welcome the 25 new members. Dr. James H. Tower was the speaker for the affair. Alumni officers presiding for 1961-1962 were Mrs. James Hagan, president; Martin Cherry, vice-president; and Louis Bower, secretary.

Faculty sponsors of the group were Ray Hinshaw and Nancy Cuskaden.

S. H. S. Class of 1962 has 167 graduates

We the 167 seniors of the Class of 1962 look fondly back on our last four years here and eagerly toward the future. As freshmen we thought of graduation as a far off event; however those four long years have passed quickly and we find ourselves leaving the halls of S.H.S.

We have spent many hours studying and preparing ourselves for the future. The memory of the blankness with which we stared at a physics problem, the feeling of accomplishment when we finally grasped what Wordsworth was telling us, and the determination we used to try again for a perfect paper in typing, will be with us always. We shall never forget our all-night efforts on scrapbooks and reports for Mr. Abrell, which we always managed to put off until the last minute.

We will surely remember the anxiety we had during the mad rush to the office to get our senior pictures, the uncertainty we experienced while filling out applications and taking tests for college entrance and jobs, the excitement we felt when we won the sectional, the pride with which we received our diplomas, and the fun of our senior picnic and prom. Being measured for caps and gowns, exchanging name cards, electing the May Court, and practicing for commencement were typical senior activities. Many seniors received awards, both academic and athletic, and we are proud of our members who were honored for their achievements.

We look toward the future with mixed and changing emotions. We are both eager and confident, reluctant and uncertain. The knowledge that we have obtained at S.H.S. will be invaluable to us and we thank everyone, including our parents and faculty, for giving us this opportunity for an education.
